Solon's Kin Kills Self, Wounds Wife

ATLANTA (AP)—John A. Peterson, 56, a veteran state employee and half-brother of Sen. Herman Talmadge, D-Ga., wounded his wife and killed himself today at suburban Hapeville, police reported.

Helen Peterson, 49, the wife, is a school principal and an authority on educational television. She was operated on for two pistol bullet wounds at Grady Hospital where her condition was pronounced critical.

Sgt. J. S. Clay of Hapeville police quoted her as saying her husband shot her in the chest and hip as she was preparing breakfast. Clay said Peterson then placed the 38-caliber pistol barrel in his mouth and fired.

Mrs. Peterson said there was no apparent reason for her husband's action but that he had been drinking heavily for three days. She added that he had been treated at a sanitarium several times for alcoholism.

Peterson was a senior clerk in the Georgia Department of Agriculture. He had been with the department since his stepfather, the late Gov. Eugene Talmage, was commissioner of agriculture in the 1930s.

$1.25 of $100 Earnings Goes to Welfare in State

LIBERTY, N.Y. (AP)—The share of personal incomes that New York State residents spend on public welfare has dropped 80 per cent in the last 25 years, the state welfare commissioner said today.

Commissioner Raymond W. Houston said that relief spending was running at a rate of $1.25 for every $100 of income.

New York State residents had a total of $18 billion in personal income last year, Houston said, and spent $600 million on a wide range of relief operations. The 1936 income was $11 billion and welfare expenditures exceeded current levels.

Houston's department has been under fire from several quarters because of constantly rising relief costs and recurring charges that many persons are on welfare because they do not want to work, not because of any genuine need.

The commissioner said in a speech prepared for delivery today to a meeting of the County Officers Assn. that relief rolls had declined from 18 1/2 per cent of the population in 1936 to 3.94 per cent last year.

The population of the state increased by 3.7 million persons, to 16.8 million, in that time.

Kuzbari to Erase Some UAR Reforms

DAMASCUS, Syria (AP)—Premier Mamoun Kuzbari today launched his revolutionary regime on a neutral course in foreign affairs. At home he propounded a policy of encouraging private ownership.

Thus he followed President Gamal Abdel Nasser's foreign policy of nonalignment in the cold war, while putting a brake on the

Party Director To Address GOP Dinner Oct. 30

RAYMOND V. HUMPHREYS

Principal speaker at the fourth annual Republican Club fund raising dinner Monday night, Oct. 30, will be Raymond V. Humphreys, director of education and training for the National Republican Congressional Committee.

Humphreys' appearance at the annual event, scheduled for the Grand Hotel in Accord, was made possible through the cooperation by Assemblyman Kenneth L. Wilson of Woodstock, Attorney Sherwood E. Davis, general chairman of the dinner, said today.

Developed MORE Program
In his capacity as national director Humphreys has traveled throughout the U.S. conducting training schools in practical politics in each state. Besides being a well known author of books and articles on politics Humphreys also is the founder and developer of the Mobilization of (Continued on Page 6, Col. 7)

United Arab Republic's nationalization program that stirred unrest in Syria.

The Syrian lawyer-politician outlined his views Monday night in his first news conference with foreign correspondents since the uprising that toppled the Syrian-Egyptian merger under the flag of the U.A.R.

Pledging a return to parliamentary democracy, he put a four-month time limit on the period he and his Cabinet would serve, adding: "I hope the time will be less."

Kuzbari termed the four-month period the maximum he would allow the new regime "to prepare for elections and parliamentary rule."

He said the Cabinet will discuss the possible return of firms nationalized last summer by decree of President Nasser. But Nasser's agrarian reform program, the premier said, "will remain as is."

The government, which he termed the Syrian Arab Republic, will aim toward "a sound, democratic socialist life" which Kuzbari said will encourage private ownership, industrialization and foreign investment.

Serrap Agency Ends
As one step toward a return to democratic principles, Kuzbari said the ruthless intelligence agency headed by Col. Abdul Hamid Serrap had been closed and its agents arrested. He said Serrap, whose secret police once held Syria in a tight grip, was placed under house arrest the day of the coup but slipped away.

Revolutionary agents tracked him to a secret hideaway Sunday night and took him into custody a second time "to put an end to his subversive activities," an announcement said.

Serrap resigned as a U.A.R. vice president and fled from Cairo to Syria two days before the revolt in an apparent break with Nasser. He long had been considered Nasser's strongest advocate in Syria.

Building Officer Gives Permits for $159,027 in Jobs

Seventy-three permits were issued at the office of Building Inspector Joseph F. Smith between July 1 and Sept. 30 for new buildings, additions, alterations and other work. The building projects cost a total of $159,027.

Eight permits were for new buildings costing a total of $95,000, 16 were for additions costing $23,140; 12 for alterations that cost $21,200; seven for garages costing a total of $10,735; 17 for heat and fuel tanks costing $6,800; four for fire escapes costing $2,152 and nine permits were for demolitions.

In 1956, he said, there were an average 2.4 million persons on relief each month, compared with an average of 512,691 last year. Houston also noted that the 1945 average was 240,000, the lowest number since welfare programs began in their present form.

Gov. Rockefeller has named a special investigation commission to study all phases of welfare and make recommendations for improvements in administration.

Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., in a speech here last night, cited the welfare problems of Onondaga County and Newburgh as examples of conflict between federal and local government that should be referred to congressmen.

Javits said Onondaga officials conferred with their Washington representatives and the disputed welfare law was defined and interpreted to meet the county's effort to put some men receiving welfare to work.

The Republican Senator said the opposite was true in the case of Newburgh, which instituted a program to pare its welfare costs.

The city, he said, followed its own program and ran head-on into a conflict with the federal and state governments and wound up in the courts.

120,000 Walk Off Ford Jobs

Observe 10 A. M. Strike Deadline, Bargainers in Marathon Struggle

DETROIT (AP)—The United Auto Workers struck the Ford Motor Co. today as company and union negotiators apparently remained deadlocked on a new contract agreement.

Acting under union orders, some 120,000 Ford hourly workers walked off the job. UAW leaders here telephoned walkout instructions to locals across the country in observance of its 10 a.m. strike deadline.

First Since 1941
It was the first nationwide strike against Ford by the UAW since the company was organized by the union in 1941.

The walkouts came as negotiators continued a marathon bargaining session in an effort to avert a crippling strike. Company and union negotiators have been in continuous session for almost 25 hours.

Ford, facing its first general strike in 20 years, and the union were struggling in bargaining talks to reach an agreement as the walkouts took place.

Others Limited
The last time Ford had a strike was in 1941 at the time of the union's organizing of Ford's workers. There were limited strikes in 1955 and 1958 during contract negotiations.

Ford and the UAW reportedly were deadlocked over noneconomic contract issues, including production standards, after having settled on economic terms at midnight in overnight negotiations.

Before going back into the bargaining room at 5:50 a.m., UAW President Walter P. Reuther was plainly angered.

"The company is paralyzed by indecision," Reuther told newsmen. "They don't know which side is up."

Beforehand, as the UAW kept in touch with its local unions by telephone, a recess was taken in the marathon negotiations for what the union called a company caucus.

Agree on Money Matters
At 6 a.m. President Carl Stelato of UAW Ford Local 600, the union's largest, said, "We might be able to hold out people on the

Winter Will Be Mild Is Shultis View

Weather Prophet Tom Shultis of Bearsville told The Freeman today that the area is due for a mild winter this year and he added "we are in for a green Christmas."

Shultis who hit last winter's forecast "right on the nose," so to speak, sees October and November as warm and dry months. He predicted the drought would continue with storms light until February and March. Those two months, he explained, will bring the most precipitation, on easterly winds.

Few Zero Nights
The Bearsville Weather expert predicts the area will receive its coldest weather during December and the first part of January, but he added there won't be many zero nights.

Shultis had a cheery note for construction and highway workers. He said the open weather should be suitable for outside work, such as roads, buildings and fallout shelters, throughout the remainder of the year.

His prediction for a cold wet spring last April and May was most accurate. He recalled that there were some 13 inches of snow in April in Bearsville. The summer he pointed out was a little warmer than was expected and as he said last spring it wasn't as wet.

Better Days Ahead
In a message to area residents, Forecaster Shultis said: "Mother Nature says a mild winter coming up. So cheer up folks, better days ahead than last winter."

Police Charge Tip-Off
State Police charge that when Warren, an officer of State Telephone Company, was handed an order signed by a Supreme Court justice authorizing a wiretap, Warren picked up a phone and tipped off the subscriber.

The wiretap order had been signed in connection with a State Police probe of an alleged gambling ring operator in Greene and Albany Counties. It is charged the tipoff ruined the investigation.

Warren suffered a heart attack several months after his indictment and the case was stalled for nearly three years. The petition of Warren is based on a recent Ohio case in which the U. S. Supreme Court struck down wiretap evidence and was critical of, such as an invasion of privacy. Federal courts bar wiretaps, but such evidence is legal in New York State if a Supreme court judge signs an order.

Relation in Question
Greene County Judge Moon must now rule on whether the indictment of Warren, nearly three years old, can be related to the Ohio Supreme Court's action only this summer. District Attorney Wise argues that the indictment against Warren was found long before the recent decision.

It is expected Judge Moon will decide the matter within 10 days after briefs are filed.

Will Drop to 41
In the process, the number of representatives from New York will be reduced from 43 to 41, effective with the Congress that convenes in January 1963.

The reduction is necessary because New York's population growth lagged behind that of other large states. California will gain eight new congressional seats.

While New York's total number of representatives will be reduced by two, the state's fastest-growing area—Long Island—will gain two congressional districts.

McEwen said there would be no gerrymandering—creation of irregularly shaped districts designed to give Republicans advantages—at the special session. (Continued on Page 6, Col. 6)

Nuclear-Powered Rocket May Be Ready for Tests by 1966
WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States aims to have a rocket with a nuclear engine ready for flight testing in about five years, a U. S. space official said today.

Nuclear propulsion, he said, is "necessary for manned interplanetary flights."

The official, Harold B. Finger, assistant director for nuclear applications for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration made his remarks in a paper prepared for delivery before the International Astronautical Congress.

He said NASA and the Atomic Energy Commission have been investigating flight-testing methods in a program known as RIFT for "reactor in flight test."

"Some time after the beginning of 1962, an industrial contractor will begin development activities on a RIFT-vehicle to meet the objectives of achieving flight testing in the 1966-67 time period," Finger said.

Plans call for launching the nuclear rocket on a short-range ballistic flight from Cape Canaveral, Fla. It would be lifted by a Saturn-type first stage.

After the initial RIFT flights, said Finger, other tests will be made involving:

1. Missions in which the vehicle will attain sufficient speed to leave the earth's gravitational field and go into orbit around the sun.

2. Flights in which the reactor is started up after it is in orbit around the earth.

Finger said present rocket engines (Continued on Page 6, Col. 6)

Must File Briefs In Wiretap 'Leak'

Greene County Judge Roy C. Moon has directed Alex Wiltse Jr., Greene County district attorney and counsel for James Warren, Cossack telephone company owner, to file briefs by October 12 in the alleged wiretap "leak" which occurred three years ago.

Warren, 48-year-old Cossack lawyer and owner of the State Telephone Company, recently obtained a show cause order seeking dismissal of an indictment returned in 1958 in which Warren was accused of resisting an officer and disclosing confidential police information.

Police Charge Tip-Off

State Toll 1,298 On Roads for '61 Up 54 Over 1960
ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—The highway death toll in New York State stood at 1,298 for the first eight months of the year, an increase of 54 from the corresponding period of 1960.

The State Motor Vehicle Department said the number of deaths increased sharply in August, 204 compared with 171 in August 1960.

The department said Monday excessive speed was the cause of more than one-third of the August deaths.

Red China Celebrates Its Founding But Admits Farm, Factory Failures

TOKYO (AP)—Red China admits failures in farm and factory and in the midst of its economic difficulties has turned to a study of the Soviet Union's "experiences in socialist construction."

These disclosures unfolded today from thousands of words of editorials and speeches during the just-concluded Oct. 1 celebration of the 12th anniversary of the Red regime's founding.

While studying Soviet experience in building its economy, Red China has emphasized it will continue the rural communes as- sailed by Soviet Premier Khrushchev as impractical.

Chinese officials report failures in agricultural production had a damaging impact on heavy and light industry and the nation's living standards.

Speeches and editorials made repeated references to difficulties brought on by natural calamities—drought, flood and typhoon—in the past three years.

Peiping earlier this year conceded that the grain harvest had been a bad one. But this was the first direct admission of the effect of crop failure on light and heavy industry and "the people's livelihood."

Essentially an agricultural country, Red China always has depended upon agricultural exports to get the machinery needed for industrialization.

The official Peiping People's Daily said: "While achieving great successes, we have encountered certain difficulties in the economy in our forward march and there have been certain shortcomings in our work."

It went on to say that this year has been one of great readjustment "to overcome the new discrepancy in the balance of the national economy."

The paper indicated there is a grave shortage of raw materials to feed the nation's growing industrial complex. It called for efforts to boost the production of light industry and handicrafts, the capacity of mining and lumber projects.

McNamara Listed for Two Talks

Kennedy, Soviet Session Looms

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy met today with his defense chiefs to review military preparations of this country and its allies.

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara and Gen. Lyman L. Lemnitzer, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, brought the President up to date on military aspects of the Berlin crisis, following up a briefing Monday by Secretary of State Dean Rusk on the diplomatic side.

To Give NATO Role
A broader survey of allied activities was arranged for the afternoon, with a direct report from Gen. Lauris Norstad, supreme commander of Allied Forces in Europe. McNamara, Lemnitzer and Rusk also were invited to sit in on that session.

Norstad likely will tell Kennedy how the Allies are answering the President's request for additional North Atlantic Treaty Organization strength to cope with the Berlin situation.

At his last news conference, Aug. 30, the chief executive was only mildly optimistic about the Allies' response to his request to increase the Western defense system's military capability by 20 per cent.

Huddles With Rusk
Informants said Kennedy probably will meet with Soviet foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko on the Berlin situation late this week.

Kennedy, who returned Monday from a vacation at Newport, R.I., promptly got together with Rusk at the White House.

It was Rusk's first chance to give Kennedy a first-hand report since Rusk and Gromyko began talks at the United Nations 10 days ago on whether a peaceful solution to the dispute is possible.

In his three meetings with Gromyko, Rusk sought to sound out the Soviet diplomat on points that might be taken up in broader East-West negotiations.

Depends on Schedule
If Rusk believes he finds an opening in the Soviet position, the United States will be willing to enter a conference, probably at the foreign ministers level, to arrive at a negotiated settlement on Berlin.

The time for the Kennedy-Gromyko meeting, presumably depends on the President's ability to find an opening in his schedule which Gromyko can accept.

Hunt Continues For Two Chased In Stolen Auto

Two unidentified men, who escaped capture during a 100-mile-an-hour police chase in a car stolen from in front of an uptown restaurant late Monday night, were sought by authorities in the area today.

The car, owned by Robert Chapman, 38, a drug salesman, of 39 Sherman Drive, Newburgh, was found at about 8:30 a. m. today parked on West Chestnut Street, according to police.

Authorities said they found drugs and cosmetics worth $750 in the vehicle.

The 1960 white sedan was reported stolen at about 11:25 p. m. on Main Street near Clinton Avenue.

Patrolmen Harry Short and John Kennedy, who had been alerted by radio of the theft of the 1960 white sedan, spied the vehicle speeding on Cornell Street in the direction of Foxhall Avenue at about 12:50 a. m. They radioed police headquarters they were pursuing the stolen vehicle at a 100-mile-an-hour speed.

Two Seen in Car

Two men were reported seen in the car.

Patrolmen Lewis J. Keator and Kenneth Radel in a patrol car, and Patrolman Floyd Krom and Detective Albert Hutton Jr., and Sergeant William Snyder and Thomas Carpio Jr., in other police cars joined in the chase which continued along Route 32 toward Glasco.

Roadblocks Formed

Roadblocks were set up by state troopers at Highland and north of Kingston. Saugerties Patrolman John Hof set up roadblock at Glasco.

Lake Katrine Troopers David Wachtel and Harry Saunders took part in the chase.

Disappears in Fog

The stolen vehicle disappeared in dense fog and rain in the vicinity of the Kingston-Rhinecliff Bridge, authorities said. Search of the area failed to find any trace of the sedan.

Patrolmen Frank Monte and Anthony Turck found Chapman's sedan parked in front of a West Chestnut Street residence. They reported the recovery of the vehicle to headquarters by radio and detectives went to examine the car for fingerprints.

Rayburn in Hospital

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Speaker of the House Sam Rayburn has entered Baylor Hospital where doctors will try to find what is slowing his recovery from a back ailment.

Rayburn will be under the care of a Dallas surgeon, whose name was not disclosed. He said the tests and consultations would take several days.

An associate of the physician said Rayburn had lost weight but his condition appeared good. Rayburn entered the hospital Monday.

The 79-year-old congressman is said to be suffering from lumbago. He returned to his Borham, Tex., home Aug. 31 for a rest and vacation.

Laborer Ruled Insane, Hacked Wife to Death

ELIZABETHTOWN, N.Y. (AP)—A laborer accused of hacking his wife to death with a hatchet has been found insane and sent to Matteawan State Hospital.

Justice Harold R. Soden of State Supreme Court ordered Robert E. Floyd, 61, committed Monday after receiving psychiatric reports.

A first-degree murder charge remains for Floyd to face if he ever is released.

State Police said Floyd struck his wife, Ethel, 61, on the head with the hatchet May 29 at their home in nearby Wadhams. He could not explain why he did it, police said.

Floyd worked for a scrap-metal dealer.

Memphis Quiet As 13 Negroes Enter Schools

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—Backed by a massive show of police power, the city school board admitted 13 Negro children to four previously white schools today.

It was the end of a century of rigid segregation in Memphis public schools. It came voluntarily, under the indirect pressure of a federal court lawsuit. No incidents were reported.

Each school had 50 or more policemen roving the blocks around it, walking patrols with billy clubs in hand.

The date of desegregation had been a well-kept secret, with a news blackout lifted only this morning. It came as a distinct breakfast surprise to many residents.

Earlier mention of the impending event by Memphis newspapers, radio or television was casual, with no date specified—at the urgent pleading of the school board.

The board argued that any publicity was likely to have died the alarm, with turmoil a possible result.

The eight Negro girls and five boys were carefully chosen from among 42 who appeared at an earlier ruling rejecting their applications for admittance to white schools.

Each of the 6-year-olds underwent an intelligence quotient or readiness test and social workers visited their homes to determine their family background.

Estimate 9,000 Penalty-Dodgers Are Unlicensed

ALBANY—About 9,000 penalty-dodging New York State motorists are without their operators' licenses today, thanks to the Department of Motor Vehicles' new license renewal system.

The 9,000 are drivers who, because of bad driving practices in the past, had their licenses suspended or revoked. But they failed to comply with department instructions to turn their licenses in, and have successfully evaded police attempts to pick up the licenses.

With its new electronic system for issuing licenses, the department caught up with the penalty-dodgers this fall, and refused to renew their licenses when they expired on September 30.

While relatively simple to do under the new electronic system, this would have been impossible under former procedures, it was pointed out by Motor Vehicle Commissioner William S. Hults.

"We know that 15 per cent of our motorists cause 85 per cent of our accidents," the commissioner said. "So by withholding the driving privilege for a specified time from these law-violators, we believe we are materially improving the state's highway safety picture."

Only by applying to the department and squaring their records and their penalties can the 9,000 now renew their licenses, the commissioner explained.

This check against penalty-dodgers is only one of many advantages the new licensing system offers. Commissioner Hults said. It also has built-in safeguards against many types of fraud and error.

Two and a half million invitations were mailed out early in August to eligible operators whose licenses were to expire on September 30. Of these, all but 80,000 were delivered.

Of the 80,000, there were 20,000 motorists who reported they had failed to receive invitations, so new invitations were made up and mailed to them.

The remaining 60,000 were motorists who presumably had died, moved out of state, or did not wish to renew.

The Commissioner expressed general satisfaction with the success of the new program.

"There were minor difficulties, but they never affected any sizeable part of the state's motoring public," the commissioner said. "And in those few cases of difficulty, we extended, and will continue to extend, every consideration of getting this new program underway."

Bruhn, 51, of 53 Jefferson Avenue, a court stenographer who was stricken with a heart attack a week ago Monday in Albany County Court-house, is reported as still on the critical list at Albany Medical Center today, but his condition is fair. Bruhn, who was working with former Supreme Court Justice Harry E. Schirick, an official referee, was stricken in the chambers of his brother, Supreme Court Justice Louis G. Bruhn.

Flying Object Is Seen by Pilot, Sevens on Ground

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah (AP)—A civilian pilot reported an unidentified flying object south of here Monday. Seven persons on the ground said they also saw it.

Waldo J. Harris, a Salt Lake City insurance man, said he spotted the disc-shaped object as he was taking off from the Utah Central Airport. "When I got airborne, I noticed that it was still in the same spot and had no wings or tail."

"Another witness said the object, seen about 1 p.m., seemed to be hovering over Utah Lake, about 40 miles south of here. Harris estimated that he got within three to five miles of it before it disappeared."

In Washington, the Air Force command post said it had not heard of any sightings of unidentified flying objects.

Rosendale, Tilton News Area Residents Ask Action on Go-Kart Noise

A very large attendance of taxpayers from Binnewater and Cottekill was present at the Rosendale Town Board meeting Monday night to protest noise at the Go-Kart track in Binnewater.

Spokesman for the group was Marta Hoyer who presented the town board with a petition signed by 35 persons from Town of Rosendale; 34 from Town of Hurley; and one from the Town of Marlborough.

It was requested that the town board pass an anti-noise ordinance. The petition read as follows:

"We the undersigned do hereby ordain the Hudson Valley Go-Kart Track constitutes a nuisance through the extremely loud roaring of unmuffled engines practically every day of the week."

Justice William P. Curran reported that Section 72 of the Penal Law has no law prohibiting noise in the town. Arthur Hahn, constable of the board and a resident of Binnewater was asked by Hoyer how he felt about the Go-Kart Track. Hahn had no comment to make. Supervisor George Mollenhauer said that he would consult with Lloyd R. LeFever, town attorney, and a report will be made at the next meeting.

Louis F. Muenkel and James Connelly, both of Tilton, who recently served as jurors questioned Supervisor Mollenhauer about the inadequate facilities at the courthouse in Kingston. They felt there should be three courtrooms as jurors are usually sent home after waiting some time because cases can not be heard.

Mollenhauer said that he would bring the matter up at the next meeting of the board of supervisors.

The next regular meeting of the Rosendale Town Board will be held Wednesday, Nov. 8, at which time a public hearing will be held on a preliminary budget.

Hurley Grangers Win N. Y. Service Award 11th Time

The Hurley Grange for the 11th consecutive year was honored by the State Grange for its service to the community.

In 1949 the Sears Roebuck Foundation joined with the National Grange and State Granges to recognize and honor those Granges throughout the nation which make the most outstanding contributions for the benefit and welfare of their communities and citizens. The Hurley Grange holds the distinction of being the only unit in the State Grange family to have won an award in each year of competition.

In the 1961 community service competition, the local Grange entered 12 projects and registered a total of 4,545 work-hours. In the area of welfare, one outstanding project in which the ladies of the Grange participated is the Cancer Sewing Group. This group produced from donated cloth varied sorts of hospital needs. This year the ladies cut and sewed 13,608 cancer dressings and hundreds of cloth items, such as, bed jackets.

In addition to Grange members, the sewing group comprises non-Grange members who, too, made numerous contributions toward the needs of the cancer patients.

Mrs. Martha Krutzfeld, chair-lady of the Cancer Committee, requests from the citizens of the Greater Kingston area white cloth material, such as old sheets and pillow cases. The cloth is needed by the group which will hold its first fall meeting on Tuesday, Oct. 17 at the Hurley Fire Hall.

At the September meeting of the Hurley Grange new officers were installed in an impressive ceremony. Past Master Walter Stauble assisted by Justin Bell, Mrs. Anne Womsey and Mrs. Ada Stauble officiated in the installation of Andrew Lahtonen as master; John Kemble, overseer; Mrs. Martha Krutzfeld, lecturer; Stephen Walligurski, steward; Lowell Popp, assistant steward; Mrs. Lucy McCabe, assistant steward; Mrs. Christina Dixon, chaplain; Treasurer, Justin Bell; Secretary, Mrs. Helen Lehtonen; Gatekeeper, Sven Moore; Ceres, Mrs. Ruth Moore; Pomona, Mrs. Constance Popp; and Flora, Mrs. Helen Snyder.

In resumption of its first meeting under its new Master, the members chose to continue their community service projects and endorsed several new ones. It was announced that Mrs. Martha Krutzfeld was awarded third prize in the state knitting contest.

Oct. 12 is Booster night at the Hurley Grange. An evening of fun and entertainment followed by refreshments is open to the public. On Friday, Oct. 27 at the Hurley Fire Hall, the Hurley Grange will sponsor a teen-age dance for the Hurley youngsters.

Today's Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—Profits are picking up speed in their six-month climb from their recession low. The bulls hope this foretells a profit explosion.

The bears think the gains will fall short of that. But early returns on the third quarter, now starting to flow in, show average net income after taxes running ahead of the year-ago figure for the first time this year.

Stock traders will watch the profit trend closely, since it reflects both the extent of the business recovery and the success of management in coping with rising costs and with squeezes on profit margins.

Earnings Still Trailing

The first half of the year, despite a good pickup between the second quarter and the first, showed earnings still trailing 1960.

But early returns for the first nine months indicate that profits should pull even with the year-ago figure. This gives the whole of 1961 a good chance to top the 1960 returns.

The early returns so far are almost exclusively from corporations whose fiscal year ends before the calendar year. Thus the nine months results go back a month or so into 1960 and cover more recession time than will those firms using the calendar year. The recession low commonly is put at March.

But the nonconformists also report a third quarter that doesn't include September when business as a whole usually picks up.

Third quarter returns of 74 corporations reporting so far show 50 of them doing better this year than in the summer months of 1960. Four operated in the red this year, against six a year ago. As a group the 74 report profits of $138,556,000, compared with $126,706,000 for the same companies a year ago, or a gain of 9.3 per cent.

These figures exclude the three months report by giant American Telephone & Telegraph. Add these in and you have 75 companies with total profits of $470,598,000 against $444,739,000 but the percentage falls to 5.8, since the Bell System was doing a lot better a year ago than were many of the other 74.

Other Gainers

Among the other gainers in the third quarter this year were department stores, office equipment farm equipment and some machinery and tool companies.

The third quarter gains over last year stand out against second quarter results, which still trailed 1960 by 2 per cent, and the first quarter returns, which ran 20 per cent behind the previous year.

Fewer corporations have reported so far on their first nine months. A.T.&T. is among the missing. But of the 52 which have, 29 trail the year-ago figures, and five operated at a loss against three in the previous year. (The nine months results are from a largely different group than those reporting for the quarter.)

The 52 reporting at the three-quarter mark of their fiscal year show net income as a group of $188,578,000, compared with $177,560,000 in the like 1960 period. The gain is 6.2 per cent.

In the first half of the year profits were trailing 1960 by 12 per cent, a better second quarter unable to offset the big drop in the first three months of 1961.

The first nine months of 1961 had trailed 1959 returns by 2 per cent.

The scattering of early returns to date is far from the last word on the profit trend, which won't be available for some weeks. But the steady climb from the first quarter low point strengthens the hopes of those who expect earnings to go on increasing in spite of rising costs in many industries.

New Pact Halts One-Day Strike At Wurlitzer Co.

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—A new two-year contract with 800 production and maintenance workers at the Wurlitzer Co., plant in nearby North Tonawanda Monday night ended a one-day strike at the plant.

The workers, members of local 250 of the International Union of Electrical Workers, voted to accept a 10-cent hourly wage increase over the two years. The IUE demand for another holiday was dropped.

The strike was called Sunday after a breakdown in contract talks. The old contract had expired Saturday.

Father of 10 Is Under Guard in Slaying Officer

DUNKIRK, N.Y. (AP) — Leo Mieczko, 44, a bartender and father of 10 children, remained in a hospital under police guard today, charged with the shotgun murder of a police lieutenant.

Police said Mieczko, who had been cleared of another first-degree murder charge in the beating of a woman 15 years ago, killed Lt. Mark Elfman with a shotgun blast Sunday night as Elfman approached Mieczko's house to break up a family argument.

Mieczko was wounded three times by a patrolman with Elfman, who returned the fire through a plate glass window in the front door of the house as Mieczko fled inside. The first-degree murder charge against Mieczko was filed yesterday.

Elfman, 48, was a father of seven children and a 15-year veteran of the force. Dunkirk police said the two policemen were called to the Mieczko home by Mrs. Mieczko to quiet a quarrel and were greeted by Mieczko on the front porch with the shotgun.

Elfman was shot at close range, police said, as he tried to talk Mieczko into putting the gun away.

Mieczko was cleared in 1950 after three trials of the murder of Mrs. Lydia Warner, 47. She was killed in 1946 as she worked in a railroad switch tower near this Lake Erie city. Mieczko was a railroad switchman at the time.

Do You Remember by Sophie Miller

I hope many of the readers had a chance to see the second antique show held at the First Presbyterian Church, Sept. 26 to 28, with about 24 dealers showing their items from New York State and other states. Mrs. William J. McVey was very gracious and took me around and made sure I did not miss some old Kingston and Rondout postal cards an antique show from Milford was showing. Mrs. McVey had some interesting square hand-painted candles, one with a red robin, I liked.

Mrs. L. Ervina Couse Chamberlin who wrote a book called Button Classics was there. She runs a shop with Tressa Kittle, which had the postal cards. I saw part of her fabulous button collection. I think one button was worth $18. She had jeweled items, hand-painted etc. Her postal cards were arranged in groups and I found 10 cards of Kingston, Rondout and Kingston Point Park, which I do not think I ever saw before. This shop is in Milford. One card was of the High Road, in Rondout. It shows a horse and buggy, with a fringe on top, dated 1912. One also of Wall Street of the horse and buggy and summer trolley car days.

I think, there will always be a Mary Powell, although it stopped running long ago. The Yellow House antique shop, run by Marionne L. Boeckel of 34 College Avenue, Poughkeepsie, had a large, framed, colored print of the Mary Powell. The Mary Powell, of course, belongs to the entire Hudson Valley, but her home port was Kingston. We should have all the items we can find of her, right here. Perhaps someday we will have a Mary Powell exhibit. There are items in our Senate House Museum upstairs, on the Queen of the Hudson.

Wherever there is an interesting Book Library Fair, or exhibit, such as the McDonald's Book Ends antique show, one will usually find, Frederic Snyder, the lecturer. This shop had a glass case of rare and antique books and maps, some dating back to the 1700's. There was a gentleman from High Falls, who joined Mr. Snyder, myself and the book dealer in the most entertaining stories, covering the show world, Europe, books and whatnot. These antique shows bring together, because of a common interest folks who make life worth living and mentally refreshing. This gentleman said he remembered my father and the drug store and Rondout.

There was a map, I think of Ulster County dated 1845 on the wall. I do not know which dealer owned it. There was so much to see, and although I intended to cover the show in one hour, I stayed two hours, because the people were all so pleasant and yet I did not see everything. Sonia Rice, a regular exhibitor from Shady, always has very fine antiques including a music box, hanging lamps and lovely china. Those who have and like cats and kittens would no doubt enjoy visiting her shop, for she has a number of cats of various ages. I know they have dog clubs and shows and even Obedient Classes in the downtown Recreation Center for dogs and dog lovers, but nothing for cats. In most large cities they have cat shows, why not Kingston? If any of the readers have forgotten what the West Shore Depot looked like in the good olden days, I have a fine postal card of it. Remember the bridge going from the mainland of Kingston Point Park to the boat landing. I have a good postal card of that also from this show.

A red letter day for beer drinkers

Now you can drink a fine beer that's under 50 calories per 6 oz. glass

When you first quaff this new, low-calorie beer, you may react just like our beer-drinking friend, Bill Lacey.

(Maybe we shouldn't have told him, before he had a chance to taste it, that this beer had about 1/3 less calories per can.)

For Bill blasted off: "What are you trying to give me? How can you cut down on the calories in a beer without losing the flavor?"

Tastes great, says Rod & Gun Club

Or maybe you'll be like the group out at the Baldwin, Long Island, Rod and Gun Club. We never told them that Trommers Red Letter Beer was a low-calorie beer. We just supplied them with a couple of cases of it last weekend. Asked them what they thought of it.

Some said it looked more golden in color. Some said it was a fine, cooling beer.

Whether you'll be a liker or non-liker on your first swallow, we just can't tell.

But we're certain of one thing. You'll agree it's a red letter day for beer drinkers when you can do something about lowering calorie intake and still drain a refreshing brew of beer. Both at the same time.

For what we've done is cut the calories, but not the flavor in beer.

As we said, there are less than 100 calories per can. Less than 50 calories per 6-ounce glass. That's about 1/3 fewer calories per bottle or can.

About 1/3 fewer calories

And a special independent laboratory regularly checks on our brewmaster to make sure this beer is always less than 100 calories per can.

And this is no substitute beer. This is naturally brewed beer. Brewed from a special blend of malts. The very best domestic hops, and choice imported hops have been precisely blended together.

You'll notice that it is a little more golden. The head has a look of imported beer. There's a bit of snap to the taste. Kind of springy and tart. Plenty beery.

So no matter which group you're in—the group that likes this low-calorie beer right off—or the group that sort of wonders about it—keep on drinking it for a while. A week. Maybe two. It grows on you. You'll find you acquire a liking for this brew—just the way you'll like the low-calorie idea.

Look for it at your regular dealers. It's always a red letter day when you drink TROMMERS RED LETTER BEER.

Nike Zeus Shot Tied To Fund Bid

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Army plans to try again next weekend to fire its Nike Zeus antimissile out over the Pacific. The test, probably on Saturday, will come at a time when the Army is bidding anew for money to start limited production of parts for the controversial system.

Nearly a month ago, on Sept. 9, Army technicians made their first effort to shoot the Nike Zeus from Point Mugu, Calif. Shortly after the missile shot skyward it exploded.

Seeks $100 Million

Although rebuffed repeatedly in the past, the Army is known to be seeking again to win an allocation in next year's defense budget for starting production of long-range items for the Zeus system.

Officials declined to say how much money was being sought, but it appeared likely the request might be about $100 million. The Army hoped for that amount a year ago but was turned down.

In addition to production money, the Army is asking for about $200 million in the 1963 fiscal year for further development work on the Zeus, the most advanced U.S. antimissile system. This would bring to about $1.4 billion the amount applied to Zeus research and development.

Testifying before congressional groups earlier this year, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara spoke of "widespread doubts as to whether the Nike Zeus system should ever be deployed."

May Change View

He said then that the system, mostly above ground, is vulnerable to ballistic missile attack. He also indicated he was not convinced that the Zeus could work effectively against enemy missiles screened by decoys.

Since then, resumption of Soviet nuclear testing has given rise to speculation that the Soviets may be working on an antimissile system.

The Army hopes this development, plus Soviet threats to build a super nuclear bomb with the explosive power of 100 million tons of TNT, may cause defense officials to look more favorably on the Zeus.

All Companies To Protect New Fire District

In a letter read to the village trustees at the Monday night meeting of the Saugerties Village Board, the C. A. Lynch Fire Company stated its agreement to furnish fire protection to the newly formed fire district in the Upper Esopus Creek area, making it an unanimous decision by all four fire companies of the village to answer fire calls in the section which lies just outside of the village limits at the end of Main Street.

A request for Jessie Stokes to become a member of the C. A. Lynch Fire Company was approved as were the requests of Anthony Zniyarch, Floyd Vandenberg Jr., Edward Montano, John E. Lecher and Robert Wade to become members of the Washington Hook and Ladder Company.

The celebration will begin at 3 p. m., with a buffet luncheon being served between the hours of 4 and 6 p. m., and dancing from 7 to 11 p. m. The invitation was accepted by Mayor George P. Holmes and the trustees.

George Dachenhausen was given permission to tear down the former Derby building on John Street, now owned by the village, for the sum of $5 and furnishing of his own liability insurance while working on the demolition.

At the suggestion of Police Commissioner George Terpening, advertisements for bids on a new prowl car for the police will be made. Bids will be opened on Nov. 6 at the regular meeting of the board.

The Saugerties Society of Little Gardens was granted permission to put up the memorial Christmas tree on the property of the C. A. Lynch Fire Company again this year, as has been the custom in previous years.

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market declined early this afternoon in quiet trading as the United Auto Workers Union went on strike against Ford Motor Co.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was off .50 at 232.10 with industrials off 1.30, rails up .10 and utilities unchanged.

Losses of key stocks were generally from fractions to a point or so. Wider losses were taken by some higher-priced or more volatile issues. A number of pivotal issues were unchanged.

The list assumed a lower tendency from the start and widened its decline slightly as Ford workers began to walk off from their jobs even in advance of the strike deadline.

Ford, slightly higher at the start, fell more than a point before recovering part of its loss. The trend was generally lower among steels, chemicals, rubbers, aircrafts, nonferrous metals, drugs and oils. Tobacco advanced and utilities were steady.

The Ford strike was discounted enough by the key industrials so that no great shock was displayed. The averages were depressed, however, by DuPont's loss of about 2 and a drop of around a point by Eastman Kodak.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was off 2.55 at 697.28. Prices on the American Stock Exchange were mixed in fairly active trading.

Corporate and U.S. government bonds eased.

Banker Found Dead

EAST GREENBUSH, N. Y. (AP)—Robert C. Young, 56, branch manager for an Albany bank, was found dead today of a shotgun wound, apparently suffered accidentally while fox hunting, a coroner said.

Searchers found the body under an apple tree near Young's home in this community east of Albany. Young was manager of the Co-pake branch of the National Commercial Bank and Trust Co.

A spokesman for the family said Young's wife, Marjorie, rode through the woods Monday night in search of her husband, after he had failed to return home by 9 p. m. The spokesman said Young frequently bagged foxes on his property at night.

Stratton Is Told

Gov. Rockefeller has not yet fixed the date.

Smallest Growth

McEwen said that the Albany-Schenectady-Troy area had shown the smallest population growth Upstate.

The region includes the districts of two Democrats, Stratton and Leo W. O'Brien of Albany. A single district is expected to evolve from those two.

McEwen said that "Mr. Stratton may be afraid to face a primary fight but he should face the population statistics and the incontrovertible evidence of a community of interest in the capital district."

6 County Groups Endorse Stratton For Governor Run

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N. Y. (AP)—Rep. Samuel S. Stratton held today the endorsements of six democratic county committees for the party's 1962 gubernatorial nomination.

Stratton, of Schenectady, has not said publicly whether he would seek the nomination.

The Saratoga County committee voted Monday night to back Stratton for the race against Republican Gov. Rockefeller.

Stratton, who has been traveling the state on a speaking tour, previously had received the endorsement of the Schoharie, Schenectady, Montgomery, Otsego and Delaware county committees.

Schenectady, Montgomery and Otsego are in his congressional district.

120,000 Walk . . .

Production rates were reported an unsettled issue.

The company said at 7:30 a. m. there were no reports of day shift employees being off the job.

Negotiators had met more or less continuously behind closed doors in a Detroit hotel room since 9 a. m. Monday.

At stake was a new national three-year agreement covering economic and non-economic matters for 120,000 Ford production workers.

The latest official company offer, made a week ago Monday, paralleled closely the General Motors settlement of late September.

The union at Ford, in traditional bargaining fashion, was attempting to improve on the GM agreement.

Nuclear-Powered

gines, which produce thrust from energy liberated in a combustion process, are inadequate for extensive manned space missions.

If only chemical propulsion were used, he said, it would be necessary to place a spacecraft weighing 9 million pounds in orbit around the earth in order to conduct a manned flight to Mars and return. The use of nuclear rocket engines would reduce the spacecraft weight to about 900,000 pounds.

Bank Call Issued

WASHINGTON (AP)—Federal officials issued today a call for reports on conditions of banks under their jurisdiction, as of the close of business Sept. 27.

The comptroller of the currency's call affects 4,524 national banks.

The call by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp. applies to 7,321 insured state banks which are not members of the Federal Reserve System and not located in the District of Columbia.

Investment Advisor and Analyst
Aims for Appreciation Prior to Retirement

Q) "Our ages are 57 and 50. We have about $4,000 over and above the amount set aside for emergencies and would like to invest it in stocks. Could you help us? Since my husband's company has no retirement plan, we shall have to depend on Social Security and our investment income when he retires." E. K.

A) Many readers have asked a similar question, and I am glad to have the chance to reply. Your husband has about eight income-producing years remaining, assuming he retires at 65. Upon retirement, you will want to put your money in safe stocks which pay a good return.

During the next eight years, however, you should aim primarily for appreciation in order to build up capital to supply your later needs. In other words, a strong growth position will actually be your best defense during the several years of work which are remaining.

I believe that you should divide your $4,000 into three equal parts, buying such quality stocks as Long Island Lighting, American Home Products, and Gillette. These three issues have fine prospects and should go a long way toward assuring a happy retirement for both of you.

Q) "Does the New York Stock Exchange approve all issues listed there?" D. R.

A) It is certainly not the function of the Big Board to place a stamp of approval on all stocks or bonds which enjoy a listing. The Exchange's job is to supply the best-organized and widest possible market place for securities which meet minimum standards at the time of listing. The Exchange requires adequate financial reports and tries to protect buyers against fraud or non-compliance with its rules. Under certain circumstances the Exchange can and will delist a stock.

Since the privilege of listing carries a great deal of prestige, companies will make every effort to protect their listing by living within the Exchange's requirements. There is no guarantee, however, that any listed security will remain solvent or that fraud may not occur.

Party Director

Republican Enterprise Program, better known as MORE program. Through his work on the national political scene Humphreys has become widely known as one of America's foremost authorities on political party organization. His MORE program is now being promoted and sponsored nationally by the Republican National Committee as well as by the Republican Senatorial Committee and the National Republican Congressional Committee.

Over the years Humphreys has managed many highly successful political campaigns which have received national attention and for several years he served as a member of the Legislature in his home state of West Virginia.

Prior to his entry into the political world Humphreys was a newspaper editor and publisher in West Virginia as well as one of the state's leading businessmen. For several years he was a director for several national merchandising firms but took leave of this field to begin editing and writing books, articles and pamphlets on political planning.

Served With MacArthur

Humphreys has also taken an active and important role in Christian youth education as a Baptist layman. During World War 2 Humphreys spent nearly two of his five years in the U. S. Army serving in the South Pacific as a general staff officer. During this time he directed the information and education program on the staff of Gen. Douglas MacArthur. In both the fields of business and politics Humphreys has addressed literally thousands of political, student, industrial, civic and management groups throughout the nation as well as overseas.

With his appearance in Kingston the committee for this year's Republican dinner feels certain that all area Republicans will join with thousands of others in their praise of Humphreys as a speaker, an educator and a Republican.

Speaking of the dinner itself, Supervisor Peter Savago of New Paltz, the ticket chairman, has announced that ticket sales are ahead of last year at this same time and he is optimistic that the predicted total of 1,000 ticket sales will be reached if not exceeded. The dinner tickets are in the hands of the area chairmen and may be obtained from them or from the central dinner office at the Stuyvesant Hotel, 37 John Street.

Celler to Oppose Morgan Proposal

WASHINGTON (AP) — The chairman of the House Judiciary Committee says he will oppose what he terms a dangerously monopolistic proposal by Morgan New York State Corp. to become a holding company.

Rep. Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., the chairman, said Monday he would testify in detail in opposition to the proposal if the Federal Reserve Board scheduled public hearings.

Celler, who also is chairman of the judiciary antitrust subcommittee, declared:

"It is unthinkable that federal reserve board approval of the application should be given in advance of thorough investigation and public hearings."

The New York State banking superintendent has approved the proposal of Morgan New York to acquire the stock of seven banks. They are:

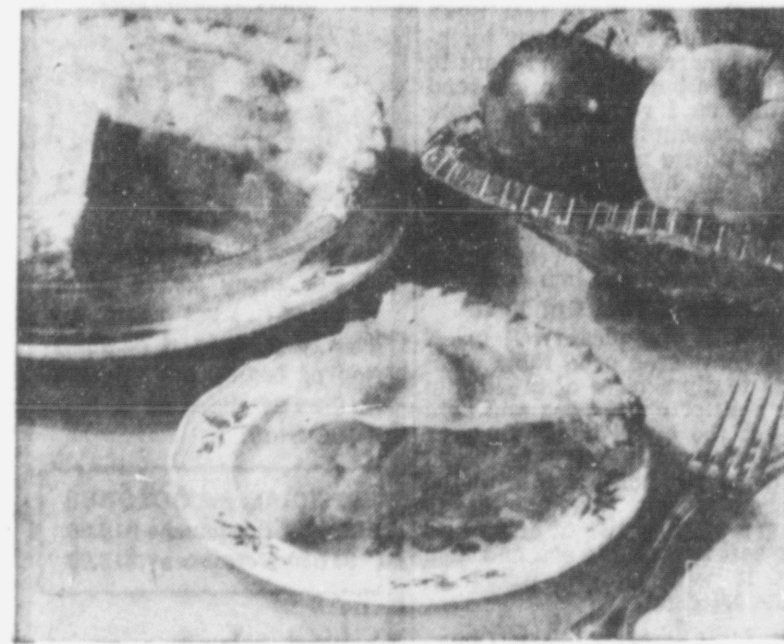

Morgan Guaranty Trust Co., New York City; Manufacturers and Traders Trust Co., Buffalo; Lincoln Rochester Trust Co.; National Commercial Bank and Trust Co., Albany; First Trust and Deposit Co., Syracuse; Onondaga National Bank and Trust Co., of Central New York; Utica; and First-City National Bank, Binghamton.

Celler said the plan "involves a dangerously monopolistic venture which threatens to accelerate the already pronounced trend toward the concentration of commercial banking facilities in the Empire State."

The proposed holding company would be the largest in the nation with $6 billion in resources, he said, and would control 11 per cent of the commercial banking assets in New York State.

FOOD FOR AMERICANS

Big Apple Crop for Good Eating

A GENUINE, succulent old-fashioned homemade apple pie. That's one "fruit" of this year's abundant apple harvest.

GAYNOR MADDOX
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

There is an unusually abundant crop of apples in your markets now. That means sauce, pies, dumplings and puddings—nutritious and delicious items for family meals.

We asked Demetria Taylor, home economist and one of the finest American cooks we know, for a genuine old-fashioned apple pie. Here's her succulent answer which she rates "the best in the world."

Old-Fashioned Apple Pie
(9-in. Pie)

Six to 8 large, tart apples; pastry for 2-crust pie, 1/2 cup granulated sugar, 1/2 cup firmly packed dark brown sugar, 2 teaspoons flour, 1/2 teaspoon nutmeg, 1/4 teaspoon cinnamon, 1/4 teaspoon allspice, 1 tablespoon grated lemon peel, 2 tablespoons butter or margarine.

Core and pare apples; cut in quarters, then slice thin. Line 9-inch pie pan with pastry. Mix sugars, flour and spices. Rub a little sugar mixture into pastry in pan. Arrange apple slices in pan, heaping slightly in center. Sprinkle evenly with remaining sugar mixture. Scatter lemon peel over surface. Dot with butter or margarine. Adjust top crust; trim edges; flute. Cut slits in center to allow steam to escape. Bake in hot oven (425 degrees F.) 40 to 45 minutes or until apples are tender and pastry golden brown.

matter of fact

Simpler than reform school was the Caffre tribe's method of curing a thief. The Caffres of southeastern Africa shouted the culprit's name over a boiling pot of medicated water, clapped on a heavy lid, and let the badly-soiled name "simmer" a few days. This purified the thief's name, and the thief.

Glancing Over TV Bill of Fare

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK (AP)—ABC's entry into the hospital sweepstakes, "Pen Casey," came into view Monday night. While there's a marked family resemblance to NBC's new "Dr. Kildare," this one is more clinical, more preoccupied with operating room scenes and medical procedures.

The opening show was in a familiar context. Dr. Casey, played by Vincent Edwards, is the young resident in neuro-surgery and is on the verge of being fired because, in his utter dedication to the healing art, he has insulted older doctors, caused nurses to resign and ordered too many instruments for the hospital budget.

To make things worse, he has gone against the advice of his superiors with the first of a series of brain operations on a young boy.

As if this was not plot enough, Dr. Casey at this point gets himself bitten by a woman patient dying of rabies. He has an allergy to rabies shots so he cannot take any treatment and for 30 days doesn't know whether he will survive.

Meanwhile, of course, he must complete the surgery on the little boy.

I knew that Dr. Casey didn't have rabies, because nobody would knock off a character after whom a series was named in the first show of the season. I would not recommend it for the average hypochondriac or anyone facing surgery, but it was good, fast-paced and interesting show.

Recommended tonight: "The Dick Van Dyke Show," premiere CBS, 8-8:30 (EDT)—new situation comedy about a comedy writer; "Calvin and the Colonel," premiere, ABC, 8:30-9—another animated cartoon series, this one starring the voices of Freeman Gosden and Charles Correll, creators of Amos 'n' Andy; "The New Breed," premiere, ABC, 9-10—an hour-long police-action series shot in Los Angeles locations.

Parker Is Foreman Of October Jury

Twenty-seven Grand Jurors responded Monday for service at the October trial term of Supreme Court out of the panel of 33 drawn. Four of the Grand Jurors were excused from service by Justice William Deckerman.

Thomas Eugene Parker of Kingston was named foreman by Justice Deckerman and Alice Hall Guzik of Kingston was named acting foreman.

After the charge by Justice Deckerman as to their duties, the jurors retired to organize and begin deliberations under the direction of District Attorney David W. Corwin.

Barris Given 10 Days Suspended on 2 Counts

Discourse on Berlin Show

Paar Flays Senate, U.S. Press, Won't Be Pushed Around

NEW YORK (AP)—"I'm at a loss for words, but I'll think of something. I have a few notes here."

With that brief, smiling introduction, Jack Paar launched into an hour-long television attack Monday night on the U.S. Senate and parts of the American press in the controversy over the filming of a Paar show on the border between East and West Berlin.

The occasion was his first show over the NBC network after returning from a trip that included stops at London, Paris, Switzerland and Moscow, as well as Berlin.

Hints Departure

At the end of the discourse, Paar hinted again that he might soon leave the late evening show after more than four years.

"I'm not staying on the show long," Paar told his announcer, Hugh Downs. Paar has made similar comments in the past.

Paar asked Downs what he thought about his comments, and Downs took issue with one phase of Paar's attack.

Downs said he thought Paar had been right in staging the show in Berlin, but he criticized him for attacking individuals on a personal basis.

Downs Disagrees

"I think part of what you did tonight was wrong," Downs said, adding: "You are important enough in being right."

Author Alexander King, a regular guest on the show, said: "I must tell you I disagree with Hugh Downs completely."

The controversial show was filmed Sept. 7 at the Friedrichstrasse checkpoint and broadcast from New York City the next week.

Army participation in the show brought criticism in the United States, and the incident was described in the Senate as "shocking" and "highly dangerous." Disciplinary action against two officers was announced in Washington.

Escapee Is Back In Onondaga Jail

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP)—A 29-year-old man was back in Onondaga County Jail today after escaping from police following hospital treatment for a cut wrist.

Robert R. Johnson of Syracuse was rearrested Monday as he left a men's dormitory on the Syracuse University Campus. He surrendered without a struggle.

Johnson broke away from two deputies as the three men left University Hospital earlier in the day. Johnson had been treated for cuts on his left wrist. Sheriff's deputies said he apparently inflicted the cuts himself.

Johnson had been held for arraignment on charges of third-degree burglary and violation of parole.

Waives Hearing On Robbery Count

Accused of second degree robbery, Arthur Lee Gamble, 30, of East Kingston, today appeared before Special City Judge Arthur B. Ewig and waived preliminary hearing. The case was referred to the grand jury and the defendant was returned to the county jail in lieu of $5,000 bail.

Detective Albert Hutton Jr. and Patrolman Anthony Turk arrested Gamble Saturday night, after Eugene Lucas, 39, no home, complained that the defendant assaulted and robbed him of $6, while Lucas was sleeping in a car parked in a lot on East Strand.

Gamble pleaded innocent to the charge Monday. Joseph J. Qualtere was assigned as attorney for the defendant.

Sentenced to Jail On Traffic Charges

Raymond Navarra, 19 of Van's Court Lake Katrine, arrested Saturday by Kingston state police, was sentenced to 10 days in Ulster County Jail on two traffic counts and his license was suspended by Town of Ulster Justice of the Peace Robert Stedje.

Navarra was charged with driving an unregistered motor vehicle and driving without safety glass (no windshield). Trooper David Wachtel was the arresting officer.

Health for All

Anyone Can Do It—Practically

For 30 years I smoked two packs of cigarettes a day. Now I haven't smoked one for two years. No, I don't feel smug about it. I did the first time and that was my undoing. I see this is the second time I gave up cigarette smoking. The first time was a few years after the first lung cancer warnings came out. At first I didn't pay much attention to them.

First they said heavy cigarette smoking did cause lung cancer. Then they said it didn't. Then they said maybe. But finally most reports seemed to show that there is a relationship. What's more, I had a smoker's cough. A real lulu. Every single morning I'd cough myself purple in the face. The doctor said I'd cough as long as I smoked. So I decided to quit. Sheer will power and determination, that's all it took, and three weeks of misery. I did stop, for a year. Did I feel smug about it? I could take it or leave it.

I was so sure of myself that after awhile I'd say to a friend after dinner, "Let me have a puff of your cigarette." That's all. Just a puff or two. Then an occasional cigarette. Before I knew it, I was right back where I'd started—two packs a day. And coughing again.

So I decided to give it up again. But this time I did it differently. I'd seen where will-power got me nowhere. Instead I kept reminding myself how the filthy disgusting cigarette smoking habit. How horrible those filled-up ash trays smelled. What a vile taste cigarettes left in my mouth. What a filthy thing it really was to smoke. How disgusting. How weak.

I pounded away at those weak, filthy disgusting words until I'd got myself thoroughly conditioned. Like Pavlov's dogs. I really think I'd shudder and be nauseated if I tried to light a cigarette today. No thanks. I'd rather not try it, if you don't mind.

PAYS HER OWN HOTEL BILL

Q: My fiancé is in the army, stationed several hundred miles away from here. Last week I went down to visit him for several days. My mother and a few other members of my family seemed quite taken back when I told them that I paid my own hotel bill while there. They feel that my fiancé should have assumed this expense and think he is very cheap for not having done so. I think they are very unfair in their criticism of him and that it was not up to him to pay my hotel bill. Will you please settle this point?

A: According to the proprieties you were right in paying your own hotel bill even though you are engaged. To let him pay your bill might have put you in a very questionable position.

Inviting Employer to Her Wedding

Q: I am going to be married soon and I would like to know if it would be proper to send my employer an invitation to my wedding. I have been working as his secretary for the past three years and he knows of my forthcoming marriage. I don't want to slight him but on the other hand neither do I want him to think me presumptuous. Will you please advise me what to do?

A: Tell him that if by any chance he does not have any other engagement, and would like to come to your wedding you would love to have him at it.

Eating a Soft Egg Yolk

Q: Will you please tell me if it is considered good table manners to dip a piece of bread into the yolk of a fried egg and then to eat the bread in the fingers? A: To dip a piece of bread into the egg and eat it with the fingers is not correct. But to drop a piece or two of bread into the soft part of the egg and then eat it with a fork would be quite all right.

Is it proper to put one's elbows on the table while eating? The answer to this question as well as other helpful information concerning table manners will be found in the new Emily Post Institute booklet entitled "Table Rules of Importance." To obtain a copy send ten cents in coin and a self-addressed, stamped envelope to the Emily Post Institute, care of The Kingston Daily Freeman.

Geraldine Fitzgerald Writes to Freeman Society Editor About Saroyan Play

In a letter received by the Freeman Society Editor Mrs. Dorothy A. Narel on Monday, Oct. 2, the famous Broadway, film and television star Geraldine Fitzgerald advised that the Saroyan play "The Cave Dwellers," which played to capacity audiences this summer at Phoenicia Playhouse will open in an off-Broadway production in New York on October 15.

Mr. Saroyan's son, who was present for the opening night Phoenicia production was very impressed with the play's interpretation and acting ability of the cast. Fitzgerald was the guest star and her son, Michael Lindsay-Hogg directed.

The play will open October 15 for a limited run revival with Miss Fitzgerald once more taking the lead. This is the first time Mr. Saroyan has granted production rights since the play was put on in the season of 1957-58 on Broadway. It will be given at the Greenwich Mews Theatre.

Producing the off-Broadway revival are Elizabeth Roberts and Maurice Schmand in association with Arthur Loeb.

In her letter to Mrs. Narel, Miss Fitzgerald writes, "... I cannot tell you how much I appreciated the piece that you wrote about me and my family and the wonderful notice you gave to the production of THE CAVE DWELLERS. I am going to put both clippings in my press book with great pleasure and pride.

"I so much enjoyed the afternoon that I spent at your house—it was more like a pleasant conversation between friends than a press interview. It was very good of you to see us in your free time.

"We did extremely well in Phoenicia and the result is that we are going to open the play off-Broadway for a limited engagement."

Ivor David Balding in association with Thomas Hitchcock Jr., produced the plays in Phoenicia last summer.

Bonds for Israel Month Is Named

In a proclamation, Mayor Radel has designated the period of October 1 to November 1 as Israel Bond Month in Kingston and urges citizens to participate in the bond program for aiding the State of Israel, the only democracy in the Middle East.

The mayor in his proclamation says: "The State of Israel is now celebrating its 13th anniversary, known as the Bar Mitzvah Year of the State of Israel, and this is a cause for rejoicing and celebration among millions of persons throughout the world."

"The State of Israel has become a haven for millions of homeless and persecuted persons from many lands in the world and is a place where many persons may live and work in freedom and democracy with freedom from fear. The State of Israel bond program, through investments of over $500,000,000, has built great projects of housing, factories, farms, new cities, harbors and irrigation works; and has given Israel the initial aid necessary to develop its economy."

"Today Israel must build 29 new cities, must develop the Negev Desert to make it habitable for newcomers and for its expanding population; must build new factories and new housing projects to accommodate the new immigrants, must engage in increased industrialization."

The day and hour of the equinox vary because of the variation between the calendar year and the solar year.

Speno Bids PSC Control School-Bus Transportation, Ceiling on Costs

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Sen. Edward J. Speno, R-Nassau, urges Public Service Commission control of school-bus transportation in New York State and a ceiling on costs of transporting pupils to private and parochial schools.

Speno, sponsor of a controversial school-bus law, charged that the State Education Department had failed to administer his law.

Cites Two Cases He cited the "Cadillac" and "ferryboat" cases and said no district should pay more for a pupil's transportation to a non-public school than it would cost for his entire education in a district school.

The Speno law, which took effect this year, extended from 8 to 10 miles the distance school districts must transport pupils to non-public schools, provided these schools are the nearest available of the type desired.

Speno, in a statement Monday, also proposed that:

Transportation of pupils be planned to allow districts to share facilities and avoid duplication. The state pays the district the exact cost of transportation, eliminating the present system under which some districts make a profit on state aid to school transportation.

Private bus companies be encouraged to seek contracts for school-bus transportation.

Blames Education Office

He said the two cases now before the public pointed up what he termed the failure of the education department to administer the Speno school-bus law effectively.

One involved a lawyer, living in a suburb of Albany, who was low bidder, at $1,300 a year, and won a contract to transport his two daughters to a private school in Albany in the family Cadillac.

A Long Island girl applied for tax-paid transportation to a parochial school 9.8 miles away by ferry and bus but 50 miles from her home by road.

Speno said these problems spotlighted what he described as inadequate administration, failure of school districts to coordinate bus routes and excessive expenditures for purchase and operation of school buses.

There are 860,000 pupils attending non-public schools in the state, he said, and it is cheaper for districts to transport them than to educate them in public schools. Gov. Rockefeller signed the law over objections of the education department, which argued that the legislation would impose excessive costs on districts.

We The Women

Taste of Success Rips Away the Beatnik Pose

RUTH MILLETT
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

I see by the papers that John Osborne, the original angry young man of Britain, has taken to success like a duck to water and has developed a healthy respect for the very things he once thought he despised.

The young man whose novel, "Look Back in Anger," started him on the uphill climb now confesses that he likes money because it means comfort, that he likes money because it means independence, and that he likes money because it means power.

This ought to come as quite a shock to the beatniks who are still running around with their scraggly beards, their dirty tennis shoes, and their clothes with a sleep-in look—pretending to disdain success.

The only difference between BEING A beatnik and HAVING BEEN A beatnik is a little taste of achievement.

With just a little success a beatnik is ready to take a bath, get a shave and a haircut, look for a clean place to live and start conforming.

With just a little success a beatnik begins to look with a critical eye on the stringy-haired, sloppy looking girls he has been pairing off with and to grow impatient with the talk, talk, talk of the do-nothings.

With just a little success a beatnik finds he no longer is a member in good standing of the beat society—for his success is envied and resented by those who are still all beat.

In other words you can't be a successful beatnik. Just as you can't remain an angry young man once you've made enough money from your anger to be a successful young man.

Parents, Five Children Are Killed in Highway Accident

FREMONT, Neb. (AP)—"Why can't people drive better? Why can't they be more careful?" Roger Lewis, 11, stubbornly held back tears as he spoke. "I don't know who was to blame," he said slowly. "But someone must have been careless, or they'd have come for me and we'd all be together again."

His grandmother laid her hand on his shoulder. They sat together on an old sofa couch beneath a tree, both thinking of his future. Roger Lewis and his family had driven up Sunday from their home in Blair, a little Missouri River town 25 miles east of Fremont. Roger's stepfather, Dallas Talkington, was going to apply for a job Monday at a concrete products plant here.

Roger's mother let him spend Sunday night with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Dahmens. The Talkingtons would pick him up Monday, she told him.

Talkington, 46, had found the going tough since bringing his family from Craig, Colo., 10 months ago but they had stayed off relief. Two months ago Talkington got a job in a Blair factory. When he found the paint fumes there made him ill, he started looking for another job. Talkington didn't get the job he sought in Fremont. So he headed the family's 1963 model car for the Dahmens modest cabin. With him were Roger's mother, Dora, 29, and the boy's sister and four-half brothers.

As the car wheeled out of the industrial district onto the highway it collided with a semi-trailer truck. The car rolled into the ditch, the trailer on top of it.

The crash killed the parents and the five other children in the family—Dallas Jr., 6; Dana La Vern, 5; Virgil Lee, 2; Lowell Cecil, 1, and Diane Kay Lewis, 9, Mrs. Talkington's daughter by a previous marriage.

The driver of the truck, Frederick Schwalm, 38, of Omaha, was treated for a cut on the forehead and released.

Chicago Is Scene Now of Hearing For B&O Control

CHICAGO (AP)—The scene of Interstate Commerce Commission hearings on rival proposals for control of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad shifted today to this shipping center.

At a session of the ICC hearing in Indianapolis Monday, Examiner John L. Bradford heard mayors and civic leaders of a dozen cities support the New York Central's efforts to get into a merger of the Chesapeake & Ohio and the B&O.

The C&O and B&O have been fighting the Central's efforts to be included in the merger or to take control of the B&O.

The Central contends that if it is excluded from the merger, its freight traffic would be cut drastically.

Joy's Tribute To Burroughs On Conservation

The annual fall open house day, Saturday, Oct. 7, at Slab-sides in memory of a simple but great man, prompts this short biography by Chet Joy, noted conservation expert of this area:

John Burroughs born at Roxbury, Delaware County, April 3, 1837, died March 29, 1926.

The world renowned naturalist wrote many volumes around the turn of the century on the ways of God and nature. His studies and phrasings brought forth beauty and purpose in flower and fauna that endeared him in the hearts of the public.

A close friend of President Theodore Roosevelt, he was known affectionately to him as "Oom John," spending many hours together in the president's retreat in the Big Smoky Mountains of Virginia, classifying birds and flowers.

It is felt that his writings were greatly responsible for kindling the spark of the conservation movement in the nation, at a time when the forests of New York state were becoming rapidly depleted due to the wasteful practices of the tan bark and lumber interests, resulting in serious erosion and loss of scenic values.

John Burroughs was equally at home in a trout stream, on a bed of hemlock boughs under the stars or entertaining dignitaries in his log cabin study "Slab-sides" at West Park, New York.

His search for depth and truth in the mystery of all life, led into interpretations of science and religion, believing that spiritual values and faith should be the guiding force in the will to do of men over the material gain of mankind.

A definition of prayer from one of his volumes "Indoor Studies" uniquely portrays the courage of his convictions. The wisest man cannot pray, has no need for prayer, because his whole life is an aspiration toward, and a desire for, the supreme good of the world.

Whehle Is Asking Further Review Of Slander Award

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—A former state conservation commissioner wants further court review of a slander award against him.

Louis A. Whehle, former commissioner, has asked the State Court of Appeals to review a lower court's award of $32,500 to Dr. E. Leonard Cheatum, assistant director of the department's division of fish and game.

The state's highest court will decide later whether to hear the appeal.

Cheatum, in the suit, charged that his reputation was injured by remarks Whehle, then commissioner, made in a speech at Watertown. Cheatum sued for $200,000 and was awarded $75,000 by a State Supreme Court jury.

The Appellate Division cut the award in half and Cheatum had said he was willing to accept the reduced amount.

Great Need Is for Balancing Opposing Views on Education

SARANAC LAKE, N.Y. (AP)—The dean of Harvard University's education faculty told school superintendents today a strengthening of the high school principalship is necessary to bring together potentially opposing viewpoints in American education.

Dean Francis Keppel, in a speech prepared for delivery to the New York State Council of School Superintendents, said educators are split between encouraging only superior students in the formative high school years and presenting high schoolers of all levels of ability with equal opportunities.

He said the theory of developing students of higher intelligence at the expense of those with average ability was the result of federal influence on curriculum. He attributed a "substantial degree of federal influence" to the National Defense Education Act of 1958 and programs of the National Science Foundation.

Say's Danger Exists

Keppel said a danger exists if the "insistence on higher academic standards has the effect of discriminating, however unintentionally, against the children of lower economic groups."

Finding a way to reconcile these conflicting viewpoints "is the grave task on which so much of our real freedom depends," Keppel said.

The delegates to the council's annual meeting heard an explanation Monday by Dr. Henry M. Brickell of his proposal for an educational research agency. Brickell, assistant superintendent of schools in Manhasset, recommended:

Creation of an Education Research Agency within the State Education Department to draft and test new teaching and education programs.

Authorization of the State Board of Regents for Regional School Development Units. These would be made up of 10 to 20 school districts. The staff of the units would demonstrate programs in district schools and train teachers to carry out the programs.

Larger cities would have their own units.

Brickell, in a report to Education Commissioner James E. Allen Jr., suggested that membership in a unit be required before a district could receive state aid.

It is uncertain, however, that if the Brickell plan were adopted, whether the Legislature would agree to any such restriction on aid.

To Leave for Home

Weary Travelers Cheered by Dough

SHANNON, Ireland (AP)—Shannon airport's 98 stranded Irish-American tourists got a $6,000 word of cheer today. The arrival of a Los Angeles bank draft for that amount cleared the way for their return home—seven days late.

President Air Lines sent the money to pay landing fees and fuel bills piled up on the airliner chartered by the group. The plane was scheduled to fly them home last Wednesday.

Airport officials said the craft needed only a precautionary inspection before it could be cleared for departure. Passengers were told it would probably take off tonight.

The Erin's Own Club of Chicago chartered the tour. The weary Irish-Americans, all from Chicago, had assembled once more at the airport from hotels and private dwellings in the area where most of them had spent their sixth night waiting for transportation.

The examination of the plane, described as routine, was carried out by Capt. Jerry McCabe, chief aviation inspector of the Irish government, and Ed Kline, an inspector of the U.S. Federal Aviation Agency. The stranded visitors to the Old Sod originally numbered 103. Five of them gave up on the charter flight and took a scheduled airliner home Monday night.

Why We Say--

TIP

The practice of giving tips started in England in the 18th century. In coffee houses small boxes were provided to deposit a small coin for patrons who were in a hurry. The outside of the box was labeled "To Insure Promptness." The first letters of this phrase were abbreviated tip.

They Didn't Take the Bus

Rail Crash Fatal to Five School Chums in 1949 Car

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—"I told them 'I wish you'd take the school bus today.'"

But, Mrs. John Altmeyer said, her son, Robert, 17, told her the bus "just got them there in time for school, and we had some history homework to do before classes began."

And as they had done many times before, her son and four close friends drove to Franklin Central High School. All five died about eight hours later when a swift New York Central passenger train twisted their car into two piles of scrap metal.

Others killed were Altmeyer's sister, Laura Elaine, 14; Stephen Pratt, 16; his sister, Nadine Louise, 14, and Linnie Taylor, 14. "The five were the best of friends," said a neighbor. They lived in the same block in southeastern Marion County. "When you saw one, you saw all five."

They died in a crash less than a mile from the school.

The youngsters climbed into Pratt's 1949 model car shortly after classes had been dismissed at 2:40 p.m. Nine minutes later they were dead.

About the time school was out, a Chicago-Cincinnati passenger train was leaving Indianapolis Union Station. It was 11 minutes behind schedule. By the time the train reached the crossing, it was traveling between 70 and 80 miles an hour.

"They stopped, and then they just drove up on the tracks," said Engineer Verna C. Zander, 63, of Indianapolis.

Promotes Better Balanced Diet

More and Better Foods Brought To Public Through Mechanization

Mechanization has come to the nation's farms, bringing with it deep sociological changes. In the following first of two articles Earl Aronson tells what mechanization means in terms of new products and prices.

By EARL ARONSON

ALTON, N. Y. (AP) — More and better foods of more varieties are flowing to your shelves and freezers today. Mechanization in the fields, the orchards and the processing plants is in great part responsible.

Human hands touch little of New York State's bountiful fruit and vegetable crop from planting until neatly packaged harvest.

Mechanization means you can have a more balanced diet throughout the year.

Consumption of processed foods, of which New York State is a leading producer, increased in this country from 35 pounds per capita in 1934 to 107 pounds last year.

While this was happening, mechanization has helped keep the retail price in check. The National Association of Canners reports that the processed food you could buy for $100 in 1934 would cost $110 now, while other foods would cost $240.

Reducing Costs

Farm labor costs also are retreating as huge machines roll onto fields to harvest sweet corn, peas, snap beans, potatoes, carrots, beets, and spinach. Machines with steel hands that shake trees are replacing human fruit-pickers.

Mechanical bulk-handling facilities in cannery yards have largely eliminated large piles of fruits and vegetables deteriorating in the sun or rain.

Edward E. Burns, consultant for Curtice-Burns Inc., and Pro-Fac Cooperative, the state's largest volume packer, says "scheduled harvesting of the raw product and canning almost immediately upon receipt at the plant provide better quality in the can."

Better for Canner

"The canner," he says, "reaps the benefit because a greater percentage of his produce received grades of higher quality than when it was harvested by hand and held at the plant for five or six hours or longer."

Not so long ago, a fieldman walked into an orchard, touched and tasted a peach or pear to determine readiness for harvest. Now he applies a gadget to the fruit and gauges ripeness through resistance to applied pressure.

New mechanical devices also mean better quality control during canning. Instead of periodic "dipper method" sampling, processors now have equipment that removes the human element and permits continuous testing.

Control and mechanization begin with the seed. Seeds are treated to assure freedom from maggots and to accelerate germination. Precision seeders plant, treat the soil against infection and fertilize.

More Corn Picked

Take corn for instance. Mechanization and weather data permit harvesting on schedule. A $4,000 tractor-picker, operated by one man gathers 100 tons of ears in a normal working day — a task that formerly required 20 men. Headlights permit night operation. The ears drop into a bin hauled by the tractor. Hydraulic or fork lifts empty bins into trucks that roll immediately to the cannery.

The trucks dump their loads into pits from which conveyor belts carry the corn into the factory. Five minutes later the corn is husked and cut from the cob, cleaned and timed for cooking. An hour and one-half from the time the corn left a nearby field it was ready for shipment to market in cans or frozen.

Saving Time, Motion

Waste time and motion are being eliminated. Waste items are being utilized. Small bits of potato left behind in production of frozen french fries are mashed, flattened into sheets, dehydrated and canned. The housewife adds water, heats and has mashed potato.

Farming styles must keep pace with the machines, says Burns.

Orchards must be pruned higher to give mechanical cherry-shakers ample space to grasp the tree and spread its rubberized canvas wings that catch the falling fruit and direct it to a conveyor.

To feed the hungry reapers more vegetables, fewer weeds and less dirt, seed men are working to develop bush beans that grow higher on the plant, beets with smaller tops, tomatoes that mature more uniformly.

Working on New Machines

Mechanical tomato and grape harvesters are in the works. The tree shaker, with refinements, soon will be knocking apples from trees.

The shape of orchards is changing. Dwarf fruit trees are replacing standard, larger trees. A dwarf apple tree yields 5 to 6 bushels of fruit. An acre is comfortable for 120 trees. The old-fashioned tree gives 15 to 20 bushels but an acre will accommodate only 25 trees.

Compare: an acre of dwarfs will produce 600 bushels to 325 for the conventional tree dwarfs and are easier to prune, spray and harvest.

The lush Genesee Valley of Western New York produces bountiful crops of sweet corn, beets and peas. Huge cherry and apple orchards border Lake Ontario. There are concentrated areas of beans and beets in a strip from Geneva and Canandaigua in the Finger Lakes region northward to the orchards of Ontario.

In New York State, 120 firms operating 190 processing plants pack 90 products into more than 45 million cases (averaging 2 doz. cans weighing 24 lbs.) The frozen pack totals nearly 150 million pounds.

New York State ranks first in processing applesauce, wax beans, apple juice, frozen apple slices, sauerkraut, grape juice, frozen concentrate and frozen snap beans.

OF CLERICAL DESIGN—The Rev. Henry L. Reinwald, pastor of the Plattekill Reformed Church, Mt. Marion, surveys the recently installed stained glass window he designed for the church chancel. Titled 'The Full Revelation of God,' it is the 25th window he has designed. (Freeman photo)

Mt. Marion Minister Is Designer of Memorial Pane

Stained glass windows and churches just naturally go together and it is fitting that a local pastor has as an avocation the design of such windows.

The Rev. Henry L. Reinwald, pastor of the Plattekill Reformed Church, Mt. Marion, has been designing windows for the past 10 years. He recently dedicated the 25th window he has created. Titled 'The Full Revelation of God,' the window was installed in the chancel of the church in memory of William and Mary Canfield, personal friends and former parishioners of the pastor.

The designer confesses that he has no "artistic talent." He gets the inspiration for the window, describes it to a "cartoonist" who interprets it on paper. Then each piece of glass is selected with infinite care by the designer. He works with personnel of the Michaels Glass Co. of Staten Island, who do the actual assembling of the finished product.

Made With Antique Glass

The Rev. Mr. Reinwald said that this is made with antique glass, a translucent glass characterized by fine crackle lines. The glass is imported from various places as each color is produced by a different country.

Traditionally blues are from England; reds from Germany; golds from Belgium; greens from France and purples from The Netherlands. In some cases specific colors can not be duplicated as the formulas have been lost over the years. Formulas are a secret process, carefully guarded by the manufacturer.

In the window which he designed for the local church, the Rev. Mr. Reinwald sought to depict the overall concept of God by employing the symbols of the All-Seeing Eye; God in Creation; the Ten Commandments; the Old Testament; The Cross and Sacrifice of Christ, and Resurrection of the Living God.

Other windows designed by the pastor were for his former pastorate at Reformed Church of Mariner's Harbor, Staten Island. There 24 windows were needed. They outlined the entire life of Christ with each window depicting one phase.

It was at this time that he became interested in the design of stained glass windows. He personally prefers to work with antique glass although there are other types available. The designation antique refers to the type of glass rather than its age.

ICC Gets Lehigh RR Request for $5 Million Loan

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Interstate Commerce Commission had before it today a Lehigh Valley Railroad request for government guarantee of a $5-million loan.

The railroad has received three previous loans totaling about $13.5 million.

The Lehigh said the additional money was needed to reimburse its treasury for past expenditures. The loan, it said, would be negotiated through Marine Midland Trust Co., New York, and would mature in November 1976.

Lehigh's application was under a special program that authorized the ICC to provide government guarantees of loans to railroads. The Lehigh operates only freight service in New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania.

Covers Joint Problems

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—The National Association of Shippers Advisory Boards opened its 25th annual meeting today to cover joint problems of the railroad and shipping industries.

The three-day convention will attract representatives of 13 regional boards composed of shippers and railroad members.

Daniel P. Loomis of Washington, president of the Association of American Railroads, will deliver the keynote address at a Thursday luncheon.

Educators Convene

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — About 600 school principals and school district superintendents from all parts of the state were expected here today for the opening of the convention of New York State school administrators.

Boom on Cemetery Plots

HONOLULU (AP) — Hawaiians want to own land—dead or alive. This was Grover A. Godfrey's explanation for record sales on cemetery plots at his Hawaiian Memorial Park, which sold 32,000 sites in its first two years of existence. Godfrey told a meeting of the National Assn. of Cemeteries there is a great desire to own land on this crowded island—even if the only way it can be acquired is for a grave.

Powerful and talented White Plains, picked by most Westchester County football observers as the top team in that section, will invade Dietz Stadium Friday night for a meeting with an improved Kingston High school eleven. There are other big games on tap this week but this one is a standout.

In other Friday night attractions, unbeaten Port Jervis hosts Newburgh Free Academy in a DUSO engagement and Arlington collides with surprising Beacon in a DCSL tilt at Riverview Field in Poughkeepsie.

The big Saturday attraction finds Highland meeting Saugerties under the Dietz Stadium lights. The rest of the schedule has Rondout Valley at Marlboro and Ontario at Walkkill in UCAAL games, Roosevelt at Wappingers Falls in the DCSL and Pine Bush at New Paltz and Saunders Tech at Middletown in non-league skirmishes.

Had Five Touchdowns
White Plains beat Kingston, 26-7, last season and is much better this time around. In fullback Charlie Jenkins, the visitors have one of the best operatives in the state. In his team's 33-20 opening decision over Mont Pleasant of Schoenectady, Jenkins scored five touchdowns and made an extra point to personally account for 31 of the 33 points.

However, the Westchester outfit has other good performers. The team plays in the same league as New Rochelle and figures to stop the Huguenots this season. At any rate, this is a big one for the locals and they are hoping to give the visitors a good battle.

Quarterback John Falvey was a vastly improved player in the 14-6 triumph at Albany. He passed for both touchdowns and handled the offensive in sound style all afternoon.

Good on Defense

Head coach Bill Burke and assistant Bill Hurley can't fault the defense, which has surrendered just two touchdowns in as many games. The offense still hasn't clicked except in spurts. If everyone pulls together at once, the Maroon team will be tough to beat.

This will mark the final non-league effort until the Mont Pleasant game later this month. Immediately ahead are Poughkeepsie and Port Jervis in DUSO league tussles.

The KHS players came out of the game in fairly good shape. Defensive halfback Frank Allen received a broken nose but he's expected to be ready for duty on Friday. End Phil McDonald, who had his nose broken last week, is still a doubtful performer and starting tackle John Duffner hasn't even suited up this season. He was hurt prior to the first contest.

This is the only home night game for the locals this season. They will play one on the road at Port Jervis.

High School Jayvees Trounce Port In Opening Game, 26-13

Sophomore halfback Tom Auringer exploded for three long touchdown gallops and Rocky Jackson picked up another from 60 yards out to pace the Kingston High school football Jayvees to a 26-13 triumph over Port Jervis Monday at Dietz Stadium.

Captain Ronnie Cole's team led 14-13 at the quarter then added two touchdowns in the fourth period while holding the tri-state scorers scoreless after the intermission.

Jackson went 60 yards on a reverse play for a TD in the first period and Al Gruner passed to Tom Plunket for the extra point to put Kingston ahead, 7-0. A 70-yard pass play accounted for Port's first TD.

Auringer galloped 40 yards on a reverse in the second period then plunged over the extra point for a 14-6 lead. Another pass play, this time for 30 yards, closed out the Port Jervis scoring and closed the half with Kingston leading, 14-13.

Following a scoreless third quarter, Auringer raced 40 yards around end for his second touchdown and a while later burst 35 yards off tackle for his third TD.

PortFrosh Tops KHS

Port Jervis High's freshman football team scored touchdowns after a scoreless first half to edge the Kingston High School yearlings, 15-0, Monday.

Pinella scored on a 7-yard end run for Port in the third quarter. The tri-state picked up two more points when Ler Miller of Kingston was trapped behind the goal line for a safety. Barrett rolled out on an end run from four yards out for Port's second TD in the fourth period and Buchanan plunged over for the extra point.

Coach Jack Gilligan's charges outplayed the visitors in the first half, but had a 70-yard touchdown pass from Dan McGrane to Carl Schick called back on a penalty. The Maroons were on the 1-yard line when the first half ended.

New Manager Of Cleveland Tough Leader

CLEVELAND (AP)—The signing of Mel McGaha as manager of the Cleveland Indians marks the beginning of a new era in baseball here.

Gone is the easy good humor of Jimmie Dykes, who was a symbol of a slower, happier time. McGaha is a young, tough leader who has a reputation for hitting hard.

"I have one philosophy in baseball," he said in his first press conference following his appointment Monday. "That is to win. I play to win and I'll do anything to achieve that purpose. I know that sounds brutal, but there it is."

McGaha, at 35 the youngest manager in major league baseball, was the Indians' first base coach this season. Dykes, 64, was released just before the Tribe's finale in Los Angeles Sunday.

When he was handed his pink slip Dykes said he felt sorry for his successor. "This job is murder," he said. "The troublemakers make it a suicide position."

General Manager Gabe Paul admitted there were some troublemakers in the Tribe's ranks when he handed McGaha the job of pulling the Indians together. "We know we have a personality problem on this club," he said. "It has hurt us. That's one reason McGaha was brought in."

U. S. Davis Cup Has Hard Time Getting Players

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—With Chuck McKinley a doubtful starter and Tut Barten not interested, United States Davis Cup captain Davis Freed wondered today if he will be able to scrape up enough players to throw against Italy in the interzone tennis final Oct. 13-15.

Freed's charges wound up a 3-2 victor over India in the interzone semifinal Monday and he promptly began worrying about the series with Italy which will determine the challenger to Australia in December.

Last year, the Italians defeated the Americans in the interzone final and went on to bow to Australia in the challenge round. That was on grass in Australia. This time, the interzone final will be on clay in Rome where Nicola Pietrangeli and Co. are considered virtually unbeatable.

McKinley is due back to Trinity (Tex.) University, where he is a sophomore—and university officials are taking a dim view of any more tennis for the current semester.

Barten, 33, generally conceded the best clay courts player in the United States, turned thumbs down on the idea.

"Davis Cup tennis requires a lot of time and energy, mentally as well as physically," he said at his Dallas home. "I can't devote the time I feel necessary to do the right job."

Releasing the ball properly is not difficult, but it is important.

Once you let go of the ball, things are out of your hands. Nothing you can do after that—not even the most violent body English—has any effect.

The ball should be released smoothly, not dropped or thrown, but rolled. It should slide on to the lane with the grace and smoothness of an airplane making a perfect landing.

Phyllis Notaro, IPAA All-Star champion and the highest average woman bowler in the country, says the final slide should end as close to the foul line as possible, without crossing it, of course. The action arm should continue out as though reaching toward the target and continue upward in a natural, flowing motion.

The thumb should come out of the ball first. The left foot should be at a right angle to the foul line. Be balanced during the release. Phyllis advises trying to stand in your foul line position until the ball reaches the pins.

If you can do this, you have been well balanced during the release and follow through.

Ferrari to Keep Cars From Race

WATKINS GLEN, N.Y. (AP)—World champion driver Phil Hill and two other Ferrari drivers have been scratched from Sunday's U.S. Grand Prix here because of the Ferrari factory's decision to keep its cars out of the race. It was reported.

Hill, his fellow American Richie Ginther, and their Ferrari teammate Giancarlo Baghetti of Italy won't be among the 19-man field in the international event, a race spokesman said Monday night.

It was reported last week that Enzo Ferrari of the Italian racing car firm had decided not to enter his cars in the 230-mile race after the death last month of Ferrari driver Wolfgang von Trips of Germany at the Italian Grand Prix.

Hill, however, will appear at Sunday's race as an honorary steward, according to Malcolm Currie, a spokesman for the Watkins Glen Grand Prix Corp.

Von Trips, star of the Ferrari team, was leading the world driving championship standings when his car shot off the track at the Italian Grand Prix, killing him and 15 spectators. Hill, the German's nearest competitor in the standings, won the race to clinch the 1961 driver's championship.

Syracuse leads Maryland 5-4-1 in a football series that began in 1920.

Yankees 12-5 Favorites With or Without Mickey Mantle

Series Opener May Find Mick Sitting It Out

By ED CORRIGAN
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Yankees, with or without Mickey Mantle, today ruled heavy 12-5 favorites to win the World Series against the Cincinnati Reds.

Mantle, the junior partner in the M-M pitcher-wrecking company with 54 home runs, is recovering from minor surgery on his hip and is a questionable starter in the first game Wednesday.

If Mantle hasn't recovered enough, Manager Ralph Houk has nominated Hector Lopez to handle right field, with Roger Maris moving over to Mantle's center-field spot.

Whitey Ford (25-4), the bombers' top money pitcher for a decade, will take the mound against Cincinnati's Jim O'Toole (19-9) in the opener starting at 12 noon EST before a Yankee Stadium throng of about 70,000. Both are left-handers.

The weather forecast is for continued rain into Wednesday with temperatures between 60 and 70 degrees. Should rain force postponement the first game will be played Thursday with the second game, also at Yankee Stadium, on Friday.

The series will be carried on television and radio by NBC with a starting time of 11:45 a.m. EST in New York.

Mantle Uncertain

Mantle said the way he feels now, he won't be able to play the opener.

"But," he said, "even if I miss the first game, that doesn't mean I won't be all right for the rest of the Series. Maybe it will get better quicker than I think."

Mantle's dour outlook was not shared by the Yankees' team physician, Dr. Sydney Gaynor, or by Houk.

"Of course he feels weak and sore," said Dr. Gaynor. "He has a wound that must heal. Knowing Mickey and how he responds to treatment, I think he'll play."

Houk said he would not scratch Mantle from the lineup until just before game time.

"Sure, Mickey isn't feeling right," said Houk. "But that's to be expected. Wait until he's had a bowl of two of soup and a couple of steaks. Then notice the difference."

Otherwise, Houk plans to start his regular lineup. Assuming Mantle answers the call, it will be Bobby Richardson, 2b; Tony Kubek, ss; Maris, rf; Mantle, cf; Elston Howard, c; Yogi Berra, 1b; Bill Skowron, 1b; Clete Boyer, 3b; Ford, p.

Howard in Cleanup

If Mantle doesn't play, Howard will bat cleanup, Berra fifth, Skowron sixth, and Lopez seventh.

Cincinnati Manager Fred Hutchinson, who says he is not the least perturbed about the top-heavy odds against his club, has only one doubtful starter. Catcher Darrell Johnson has a strain in his left side. If he can't make it, Jerry Zimmerman probably will get the call.

The National League champions' lineup will be Don Blasingame, 2b; Ed Kaslo, ss; Vada Pinson, cf; Frank Robinson, 1b; Wally Post, rf; Gene Freese, 3b; Gordy Coleman, 1b; Johnson or Zimmerman, c; O'Toole, p.

"I see," observed Hutchinson, "that we're not supposed to have a chance. Well, we surprised people all season, and it's likely that we have one big one left."

Most observers figure the only chance the Reds' have of springing the same kind of upset as the Pittsburgh Pirates engineered last year is for their pitchers to squish the Yankee long-ball hitters.

The Reds will depend on O'Toole, Joey Jay and Bob Purkey along with two fine relievers—Jim Brosnan and Bill Henry. Ken Johnson, a knuckleballer, also will be available in relief.

Defensively the Reds, who were picked to finish fifth or sixth in this year's pennant chase, have nothing to measure up to the Yankees.

"They say," laughed Freese,

Houk Will Leave Decision On Playing Up to Mantle

By JOE REICHLER
Associate Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—The guess here is that Mickey Mantle will be on the sidelines and Roger Maris will be in center field when the New York Yankees face the Cincinnati Reds Wednesday in the first game of the World Series.

There is divided opinion among the Yankees whether "The Mick" as his teammates call him, will be ready for the opener. The slugging center field left the hospital Monday, looking pale, drawn and underweight after undergoing a minor operation for an abscess on his right hip.

"I'm very concerned," admitted Yankee Manager Ralph Houk. "Right now he's in pain and he can't run at all. I look for him to improve but I've got to play it by ear. I'm going to leave it up to him. I certainly am not going to rush him."

"Even if he plays, he'll probably be stiff and sore. But I'd rather have a not altogether well Mantle than no Mantle at all."

Doctor Optimistic

Dr. Sydney Gaynor, the Yankees' physician, was more optimistic. "I think he'll play in the first game," said Dr. Gaynor. "Knowing Mickey and how well he responds to treatment, I'd have to bet he'll play. He has amazing recuperative powers."

What does Mantle think? "If I feel Wednesday as I do right now, I won't be able to play," he said. "I'm still weak, the leg hurts and I can't run on it. I've lost five pounds, too."

Maris, who visited Mickey in the hospital Sunday night after making baseball history by blasting his 61st home run, was not so sure whether his slugging teammate would be ready.

"Mick's pretty sick," Roger said. "Nobody wants to see him in the lineup more than I but he's hurting. You know Mick. He hates to sit one out. He'd play on one leg, if he could. But he just can't run."

Yogi Berra Writes His First Newspaper Story

EDITORS NOTE — Here is Yogi Berra's first newspaper story, written exclusively for The Associated Press. The famous New York Yankee catcher, who holds more World Series records than any other man, will write for AP afternoon papers throughout the series.

By YOGI BERRA
Written for The Associated Press

NEW YORK (AP)—Don't laugh. I might just as well become a sports writer. Didn't Casey Stengel start out as a left-handed dentist? And didn't Johnny Neun, an old Baltimore socker writer, become manager of the Cincinnati Reds?

You could look it up. I got that expression from being around Stengel in so many World Series. After all he called me his assistant manager. I heard him tell it to his writers a few times.

Casey used to ask me about the pitchers. I guess it helped some. Look at how long Whitey Ford has been around. Remember Whitey broke in at a tough time against Vic Raschi (21 wins), Ed Lopat (21) and Allie Reynolds (17) and he won his first World Series start against the Phillies in 1950. Should have had a shut out, too.

Aside from what Roger Maris and Mickey Mantle did this year in helping us Yankees set home run records, I'd like to comment on the fine job Ralph Houk did as our manager. Here is a fellow who went to bat only twice in World Series action. And he tried to take my job as a catcher on the Yankees. He never quit trying and look where he is today.

Why, now I'm not even his assistant manager. He did it all himself.

So not only did I lose that job this year but also my job as No. 1 catcher on one of the greatest teams in baseball. We hope to prove that in the World Series starting Wednesday in Yankee Stadium.

I'll be out in left field, and fellows have said it's the toughest position on the team in October when those late afternoon hazy days seem to hide the ball. And all those people blowing out cigarette smoke from our triple decker.

"You have to have strength down the middle to win a pennant. Look down our middle. You have to look 350 feet from home plate (to Pinson) to find strength."

John Zola Dies Of Brain Injury

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A brain injury which induced internal bleeding caused the death of a Lebanon Valley College football player who collapsed during a game and died shortly after an emergency operation for removal of a blood clot from the brain, authorities report.

The report on the player, John Zola, 20, junior halfback from Hazleton, Pa., was made Monday by the Philadelphia medical examiner's office following an autopsy.

The death of Zola, who died Monday in Presbyterian Hospital following the emergency surgery Saturday night, was the second in college football this year. Donald G. Foley, 19, of Pasadena, Tex., a member of Navy's junior varsity squad, died last Thursday of injuries suffered in practice. There have been 11 fatalities in high school football this year.

John Brown, Syracuse University's touted 235-pound senior tackle from Camden, N. J., is a rabid weight-lifter.

Dunn, Ex-KHSHurler, Signed by the Giants

Bob Dunn, former Kingston High School pitcher, has been signed to a San Francisco Giants contract and will report for spring training in Arizona next April, it has been learned.

Dunn, a 6 foot, 1½ inch right hander who weighs 190, was signed by Tony Ravish of Hudson, regional scout for the Giants. He is only the second player signed by the Giants from New York State this season.

Dunn pitched outstanding ball for the Saugerties Dutchmen team under Vernon Joe Benjamin, who was instrumental in arranging the successful tryout for the Kingston youth. He played baseball at Kingston High four years, three with the varsity squad.

Dunn, who is working at Kingston hospital, is the son of Mrs. Veronica Dunn and resides at 47 Newkirk Avenue.

Clemente Looks For Pay Hike

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Roberto Clemente, winner of the 1961 National League batting title, says he expects a salary hike next season from the Pittsburgh Pirates. Clemente, flashy Puerto Rican outfielder who has one of the best throwing arms in baseball, says he's entitled to a salary boost now for winning the batting crown but "as an all-around ball player."

Clemente won the championship with a .351 average and succeeded teammate Dick Groat as batting kingpin. It was the first time the Pirates have had back-to-back batting champions since 1935 and 1936 when Arky Vaughan and Paul Waner won titles.

Commotion All About Yankees

NEW YORK (AP)—Lo, the poor Reds. Doesn't anyone think they can win?

On the eve of the autumnal extravaganza known as the World Series all the commotion seems to be about the New York Yankees, a perennial American League nominee, who'll face the National League champion, the Cincinnati Reds, in the opener of the best-of-seven set Wednesday at Yankee Stadium.

Those nebulous figures who compile the betting odds have the Yankees favored at 2½ to 1. That mass of citizenry which suddenly becomes baseball conscious at series time knows all about redoubtable Roger Maris and his 61 home runs, Mickey Mantle's celebrated ailing hip and his home runs, Whitey Ford's prodigious pitching and probably about Elston Howard's high batting average.

This preoccupation with the Yankees is reflected in the press, radio and television. It's Yankees, Yankees, Yankees. There is talk of a four-game sweep, such as the Yanks staged against the Reds the last time the two clubs met in 1953.

The poor Reds. You'd hardly know they were in town.

But they are. They'll show up ready to face the awesome Maris & Co. and they don't appear to be making in their boots at the prospect.

Dear Dad

Well, here I am again . . . and I'm just bursting with excitement over the news that I have for you and mom. Jim and I have set our wedding date!

We have made up our minds to come to Kingston for all the festivities instead of Washington where we are working . . . mainly because I was so impressed with the full Bridal Service that Schneider's offers. As you remember, last vacation while I was home, I went to Schneider's for a wedding gift for Carol. And, do you know, Schneider's had her choice of China, Glassware and Silverware place settings already displayed with her name on it to make gift giving easy! Carol told me that Schneider's also arranged for her stationery and oh, so many things that one simply must care for. The Bridal Registry is simply terrific! Besides, I simply adore those charming gift boxes with the Schneider name imprinted on them . . . They'll look so refined when I show off my Wedding Presents.

Your loving daughter,
Nancy

P.S. I'll fill in the details to you, mom and Schneider's when I arrive home next week.

Nuclear Refugees Want to Become Active in Chico

CHICO, Calif. (AP) — Alvin Bauman, spokesman for the New York "nuclear fugitives," said to Chico Mayor Ross Lawler, "We want to become a part of your city and to grow with it."

Bauman, 43, a concert pianist and former Columbia University professor, spoke for the 35 emigrants fleeing what they consider a greater nuclear danger in New York.

The question is, how will they become a part of Chico? Their group numbers such diversified talents as those of Teal Ames, former television actress; Gene Gordon, a sculptor; Jane Andrews, teacher; Lou Oles, a free-lance trumpet player; and pianist Bauman.

Mayor Lawler was optimistic about the group's chances for settling and becoming useful citizens.

He said, "They've all rented homes here. We even understand they've made deposits in our local bank. So you know they aren't a bunch of beatniks. Yes, I think it's going to be all right."

If worse comes to worst in finding employment, maybe some of the emigrants could even find jobs at the nuclear missile launching center a few miles outside Chico.

Koreans Warned On Fallout in Saturday Rain

SEOUL, South Korea (AP)—The South Korean Atomic Energy Agency reported today it had detected up to 16 times as much radioactivity as normally permissible for human beings in rain that fell Saturday.

Fitzgerald Hearing Scheduled Oct. 14th

Postponement until Saturday, Oct. 14 has been granted James P. Fitzgerald of 57 Gage Street for a hearing on charges of reckless driving and driving without a license, resulting from a traffic accident last Friday night on Route 9W in Esopus.

Fitzgerald was arrested by State Police Investigator Joseph Franko, who gave chase after he said, Fitzgerald had forced the officer's unmarked car from the highway. The Kingston man paid a $25 fine on a charge of speeding 95 miles an hour, but Justice of Peace John Beaver adjourned charges of reckless driving and operating without a license for two weeks pending the return of Investigator Franko from police school.

Fitzgerald who had been ordered to appear before the justice with his operator's license, informed Justice Beaver it had been lost. He was ordered to have a duplicate with him when he appears on Oct. 14.

Driver Improves: Hit Pole to Avoid Child

A Brooklyn man, who was seriously injured Sunday, when his car struck a utility pole in an attempt to avoid hitting a child, was reported in apparently fair condition today at Kingston Hospital.

William J. Morrissey, 49, of 1200 Myrtle Avenue, according to Kingston state police, suffered a possible compound fracture of the skull and a deep forehead laceration.

His wife, Agnes, a passenger in the car, was treated and released from the hospital, troopers said.

Troopers Richard Ryan and Harry Saunders reported the Morrissey vehicle was proceeding south on North Drive at Glenrie Lake Park when an unidentified child darted into the path of the 1959 sedan. The driver applied the brakes, the car went out of control across the highway and struck a utility pole, troopers said.

Radel, Schwenk Discuss Issues Of City Campaign

Kingston's two mayoralty candidates, John J. Schwenk, Republican, and Mayor Edwin F. Radel, Democrat, met in public debate Monday night as a feature of the monthly meeting of St. Mary's Rosary Society of St. Mary's Church.

Moderator James Howard pointed out in his introductory speech that it was the first time in Kingston's history that two mayoralty candidates had met face to face in a public debate.

St. Mary's School Hall was crowded as Moderator Howard gave each candidate 10 minutes to state his position and aims. Mayor Radel was given the opportunity to speak first and he presented his administration's accomplishments and his future plans, if re-elected, in a seven-phase talk.

Cities Improvements Radel told the gathering he pledged full time to the job of being mayor. He related how he had kept the public informed of the progress of his administration via press and radio. He cited the improvements in the police and fire departments, and he pointed out how he had helped bring Kingston favorable nationwide publicity with the Miss New York State Pageant and the Women's Bowling Tournament.

Radel disclosed latest developments in the Washington Avenue Viaduct situation, stating that the Public Works Department informed him Monday that the preliminary plans were completed and that the viaduct soon will be demolished. In conclusion he talked on Urban Renewal, stressing it was necessary for the welfare of Kingston. He said many areas of the city need attention and the city might as well take advantage of any moneys available for the project.

Against Partiality

Candidate Schwenk based his talk on government ethics and listed portions of the program he hopes to put into operation, if elected in November. Schwenk stated a high standard of moral ethics is a must for all politicians. He said he would practice the golden rule. If elected and added that if he wins the qualified office he will appoint qualified men to all posts, regardless of politics. He explained that all city suppliers would be treated equally and that he would have a stiff rule against gifts to city officials. He said he would serve all people without partiality and that there would be no second class citizens and no second class neighborhoods in Kingston. His actions, he said, would be for the benefit of the entire city and not just one segment. He also touched on the problem of snow removal, crime prevention and pure water and in closing promised to give Kingston the best I have to give. Kingston must grow and prosper, which it will, if we realize this high moral code of ethics.

The audience took part in a question and answer period following the debate and asked a widely diversified group of questions. The Rev. James Cunningham, new priest at St. Mary's asked about improved police protection and Mayor Radel explained it in detail. One woman wanted to know more about urban renewal and Schwenk said a master plan was promised by August and certainly should have been completed prior to embarking on a specific neighborhood project. Radel said there had been no set date for it, but that Raymond and May, consulting engineers, told him the plan was now in the printers and should be ready shortly.

Regarding a query on taxes going down, Radel said if the state is going to exempt railroads, certain sized cities and church parsonages when the state should offer an alternative program to raise funds lost by these exemptions.

Schwenk, in touching on the subject, said he feels that the city could place greater emphasis on solving its own financial problems and less dependence on state aid.

On Recreation

The Rev. Edward I. Farrelly, assistant pastor, brought up the subject of recreational facilities. Radel said he would like to see open land reserved for recreational facilities under urban renewal. Schwenk commented on the fall-off in children's participation in supervised programs and noted that last summer equipment was unusable, grass was growing wild, refuse was widespread and fences in poor repair. However, he said he felt his trip accomplished some good, since he was seen taking pictures and the following week the fences were painted and grounds cleared up.

In regard to a query about possible increases in pay for police and firemen, Schwenk said he'd give it fair consideration. Radel said the men of both departments had reached a $5,000 annual salary level and they now asked an across the board $1,000 increase, which he added will be discussed but that he doesn't think the city can afford it.

Both candidates in conclusion discussed street and road improvements.

Mrs. Elma Dunn was program chairman.

$1.67 Cost Per Person Seen for Ulster College

The annual net cost of establishing a Community College in Ulster County would only be about $1.67 per person.

This information was contained in a release today by the Citizens Advisory Committee.

It is planned to issue a series of releases to continue until Election Day, Nov. 7, to inform all voters about the need, costs and benefits of a Community College.

The Citizens Advisory Committee urges that every citizen, especially all voters, attend at least one or more of the many meetings scheduled during the next five weeks, at which the question of establishing a Community College will be discussed and be prepared to vote on the question Nov. 7.

The committee pointed out that one of the best opportunities to hear this question discussed will be at a public forum in Kingston sponsored by the Ulster County Chapter of the American Association of University Women scheduled for Tuesday, Oct. 10.

The Citizens Advisory Committee has also completed the final draft of a small leaflet, also setting forth the need, costs and benefits of a Community College. They should be available not later than next Monday afternoon. # Boy Left Alone After Carla Is With Friends Now

ANGLETON, Tex. (AP) — The shock is gone. Robert Dunn is settled in a routine almost normal for a 15-year-old.

The routine would be normal except Robert takes time each day to thank people by mail for money, clothes and kind words. He personally thanks Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Swanson of Angleton for giving him a home.

Robert lost 11 members of his family in Hurricane Carla.

His parents, four brothers and sisters, an aunt, an uncle and three cousins were swept away by the storm's flood waters Sept. 11. They had tried to ride out the hurricane in the Dunn home.

"The last time I saw mom and dad they were holding hands and she was crying," he said.

The Swansons were close friends of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. W. (Shorty) Dunn.

"The Lord has blessed us with good incomes and we have a large house," Mrs. Swanson said. "We had been thinking of adopting an older boy and we know what kind of a boy Robert is."

Mrs. Swanson, 37, teaches first grade at an Angleton school. Her husband, 35, is a maintenance worker for a chemical company.

Money sent to Robert has been placed in a savings account for him to use when he goes to college.
